Brutality Case Woman's Mate Appears

MAN PLANS FIGHT FOR KIDDIES

Husband of 'Story-Book Stepmother' Reveals Divorce Suit Pending

DESERTION IS SHOWN BASIS OF COMPLAINT

Wife Left Him While They Were Living at Fullerton, Is Charge

Enter Robert Phares, husband of Mrs. Bertha Phares, the asserted "story-book stepmother."

While the local authorities were pushing plans to take from Floyd E. Hatch the custody of his two young children, Robert Phares, previously undiscovered husband of the woman who posed as Hatch's wife, suddenly appeared on the scene today, with the object of taking the woman's own children from her.

Thus the irony of fate seemed ready to punish the "story-book stepmother" for her alleged abuse of the Hatch tots by making her suffer through her own.

Phares, who appeared at the courthouse to assert his claims to his two children, Frederick, 11, and Robert, 9, told Probation Officer R. R. Miller and Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley that his wife had deserted him while they were living at Fullerton in June, 1922, and that he knew nothing of her whereabouts until he read of her arrest with Hatch in Santa Ana on charges of mistreating the Hatch children.

Divorce Suit Pending. That he now has a divorce suit pending in the Los Angeles courts and that he will amend his petition to include another serious charge with that of desertion was stated by Phares, who expects to make a fight to recover possession and permanent custody of the two Phares children. They are now in Compton with a sister of Mrs. Phares.

His wife had known Hatch about four months before she deserted her husband, Phares said. He suspected that she had gone with Hatch, but he had no definite knowledge of their whereabouts or association until the local case developed, he said.

His plea for custody of his children will be based on charges of their mother's unfitness to have their care, it was said. The circumstances surrounding the woman's arrest here will probably be used against her, Phares indicated.

Feared Wife. "I would have taken the children from her before she had a chance to get them away from me," Phares told the authorities. "But during the last several years that she lived with me she became so hardened that I feared to arouse her. I was afraid that if I took the children she might take serious steps toward me."

Meanwhile, the authorities were preparing to file a petition in the courts here to have Clyde Hatch, 8, and Alta May Hatch, 6, removed from the custody of the father, who is accused of brutally beating and starving them, with the abatement

Wife's Craving For Gay Life Breaks Up S. F. Pastor's Home

After twenty years of married life, Mrs. Helen West, 36, found it impossible longer to be happy as the wife of a minister. "I liked dances, movies and hotel suppers," she explained as she left the home of her husband, the Rev. James S. West of the fashionable First Baptist church of San Francisco. Both agree that the differences in taste make a reconciliation impossible.

BRANCH BANK FIRM IS HIT BY BANDITS

L. A. Institution Suffers $2500 In 24 Hours as Two Gangs of Robbers Work.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Victimizing a branch of the Pacific Southwest Bank and Trust company for the second time in twenty-four hours, four robbers at noon today held up the Beverly Boulevard branch and escaped with $1,000 in currency.

They fled in a small touring car which according to police, was stolen yesterday.

The Pico and Valencia branch of the same banking chain was robbed of $1500 yesterday when three bandits held up the manager and seven employees.

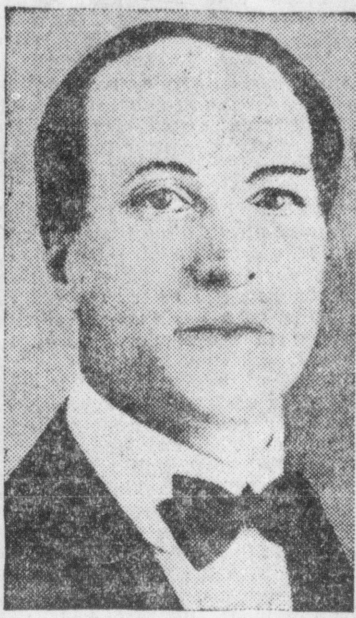

SEE SAVING AS BIDS ON JAIL ARE OPENED

A possible saving of $40,000 to $45,000 in the building of the new county jail was apparently available today when a combination of lowest bids received on the various jail contracts was found to aggregate $180,331, as compared to the estimated cost of $225,000.

Bids were opened by the board of supervisors at 11 a. m. and were taken under advisement until 3 p. m. at which time the announcement of contract awards was expected.

Among the fourteen bids on the general contract, the lowest submitted was that of the J. A. Creighton company, Hollywood, which was $92,999. The next lowest was a bid of $101,000 by C. McNeill, Santa Ana. The bids ranged as high as $130,000.

Four bids were submitted for supplying equipment, including

City Attorney Instructed to Abate Asserted Menace on French Street

Following declarations made at the city council meeting here last night, by Mayor John W. Tubbs, Fire Chief John Luxembourg and City Attorney Z. B. West, Jr., the apartment house conducted at 925 French street by the Rev. F. Linger is a fire and health menace, the city attorney was directed to take whatever steps may be necessary to remedy conditions existing at the place.

Discussion of conditions there revealed that the place recently had been investigated by various officers of the city, following filing of complaints.

Originally built by H. McPhee, former newspaper man of Santa Ana, and recently partially destroyed by fire, the house has been rebuilt, and additions made, sections at a time. According to West and Luxembourg, rebuilding has been entirely without regard to fire or sanitary regulations.

Says Seven in One Room. West asserted that on visiting the place he found four adults and three children living in one room. Tubbs said that he saw garbage cans that apparently had never been cleaned and cited a chicken roost built almost against the house as further evidence of neglect properly to observe sanitary regulations.

Luxembourg said that gas stoves were placed against wooden partitions. He said that no attention had been given to instructions set forth by him for placing tin back of the stoves and for placing a fire escape at the rear of the building.

"The place is a firetrap," declared the fire chief.

TO RUSH PAYING OF SEVENTEENTH STREET. That the council intends to proceed at once with plans for paving West Seventeenth street, from Ross street west to the city limits, was disclosed at the city council meeting here last night by the adoption of a resolution directing the city engineer at once to prepare plans and specifications for the work. A petition for continuing the paving from the city limits to Westminster is now on file with the board of supervisors.

Representing the Santa Ana camp of Spanish War veterans, Dan Meyer appeared before the council and requested free license for the Golden Brothers' wild animal show to appear here March 10 to give a benefit for the camp. The permit was granted. Meyer said the camp's profits from the enterprise would go to the camp's cemetery fund.

Upon request of George R. Wells, member of the city park commission, the street department was instructed to

SAYS $30,000 RAID ON P. O. JUST LARK

(By United Press Leased Wire)

MISSOULA, Mont., Jan. 29.—"We just wanted to see how easy it would be to get the money," was the explanation today by three University of Montana students of why they robbed the Missoula postoffice early yesterday morning of $30,000.

Robert Heller, of Boston, Mass., today made a full statement of how the robbery came about. He was acting as spokesman for Bernard Quessel and Robert Ackley, his companions in the robbery, as well as for himself.

"I was working as an assistant in the postoffice," Heller declared. "I was there when $30,000 for a local bank came in. At midnight I went to my room and there casually told my room mates of the money's arrival."

"We started to discussing how a professional robber would go about obtaining the money. Then we began talking about how we could do it ourselves."

"Then, having developed our own theories, we just simply had to try them out."

"The three boys have entered pleas of guilty to robbery charges and are awaiting disposition of their case by the courts."

The Only Way Out

We greatly deplore and are deeply concerned about the terrible wave of crime that is sweeping the country. We agonize in spirit over the soul-racking fact that the horrible World War seems to have been fought in vain. We view with fear and trembling the utter disregard for law—even the flouting of the Constitution of the United States itself—by the large and growing clientele of the bootlegger. We lie awake nights worrying and praying over our joy-riding, jazz-dancing, pleasure-mad boys and girls. We groan under the burdens of taxation which are mainly due to our futile efforts to suppress crime, the necessary maintenance of reformatory and eleemosynary institutions, and unnecessarily high costs of government.

And what are we doing about it all? Mainly, we are not doing anything that is really effective. It is doubtful if anything effective ever can be done until we grow a new generation and grow it differently.

We must put into the foundation of our social order more character-building institutions like the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association—institutions and agencies that will get hold of our boys and girls, our young men and young women WHILE THEY ARE YOUNG.

Aside from all that is biggest and best in considering the social and economic value of character building—in the prevention of crime and social evil instead of attempting its cure—compare the cost of saving one boy through such an institution as the Y. M. C. A. with the cost of catching and convicting and incarcerating one criminal like Little Phil Alguin, for instance!

Until we get the right mental and spiritual focus in these matters we shall never be able to see them clearly or deal with them wisely and effectively.

DEATH CLAIMS YOUNG BRIDE OF S. A.

Many hearts were saddened here today when it was learned that death had invaded the recently-established home on Riverine avenue, of Franklin P. Nickey Jr., and had taken the young bride of the home, Harriet Schultz Nickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schultz, 1637 West Fourth street.

Mrs. Nickey's death occurred early this morning, following an illness of almost three weeks with intestinal influenza which developed into typhoid fever.

A native Californian, she had spent the greater part of her life in this city where she was a student at Santa Ana high school. Her marriage to Mr. Nickey was an event of November 6, 1923, and took place at the home of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Shipkey of Anaheim.

Beloved by all who knew her, the young matron was enlarging the circle of friends formed as a girl in the city, and was happiest when welcoming them to the little Riverine avenue home in which she took pleasure and pride.

She is survived by the sorrowing young widower Franklin Nickey Jr., her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schultz; two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Shipkey of Anaheim and Mrs. Walter Hickey of this city and two brothers, Carl Schultz and Jack Schultz.

Funeral services will be held at Smith and Tutill chapel tomorrow at 2 p. m. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Japs to Back Colony In South America

TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 29.—Organization of a company capitalized at thirty million yen—approximately $14,000,000—to foster Japanese emigration to South America and to establish Japanese colonies on that continent, was announced here today. Reizo Yamanashi heads the company as its president. The company's effort will be directed chiefly towards Brazil and Peru. The company expects to obtain government backing and it is understood that it has the support of the finance ministry.

Step By Step In Great Oil Scandal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Here is the story in skeleton of the Teapot Dome and other naval leases. On May 31, 1921, President Harding, urged by Secretary of the Navy Denby and Secretary of the Interior Fall, transferred the navy oil reserves from the navy to the interior department.

July 21, Fall and Denby signed contracts with E. L. Doheny for exploitation of reserves one and two in California.

April 7, 1922, Fall and Denby signed leases with H. F. Sinclair for Teapot Dome reserve, a 9481 acre tract in Atrona county, Wyoming, containing roughly 22,000,000 barrels of oil.

April 15, the senate, having heard of the Teapot Dome lease, which was not officially announced, asked for copies of all leases.

April 21, Senator La Follette, in a resolution, called for a complete investigation.

April 29, Senate orders investigation.

January 30, 1923, Senate public lands committee hired experts to see whether it was true oil was draining out of Teapot Dome.

March 4, Fall resigned from cabinet.

October 22, Senate committee began hearings following report of experts.

October 23, Fall before committee, said he was proud of leases.

October 25, Denby told committee leasing was "a routine detail" he knew little about.

December 27—Fall wrote committee he borrowed $100,000 from E. B. McLean, Washington publisher, to buy ranch, and said he never got a cent from Sinclair or Doheny.

January 11, 1924, McLean at Palm Beach testified Fall got checks for $100,000 but returned them uncashed, saying he had arranged to get the money elsewhere.

SOLONS PROBE SPENDING OF ROYALTIES

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A new sensation involving the navy department appeared this afternoon when Chairman Butler of the house naval affairs committee summoned Secretary Denby and several naval officers to appear tomorrow for questioning in connection with charges of illegal expenditure of $17,000,000 in oil royalties.

Information reaching Chairman Butler is that the $17,000,000 collected by the navy department on oil royalties was used directly in construction work for the navy, particularly at Pearl Harbor, instead of being paid into the treasury and then appropriated for the department's use.

The house committee desires to inquire as to the report. In addition to Denby, Rear Admiral J. L. Gattimer, advocate general; Admiral J. R. Robinson, Admiral Robert Griffin and other officers having to do with the royalties or Pearl Harbor construction have been asked to appear.

Cabinet Member Takes Entire Blame For Navy Bureau Action

PARTISAN BATTLE SEEN BY SOLONS

President Stands Firm For Double Inquiry Into Big Scandal

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—"I am so convinced that I did the right thing in making the naval leases, I would do it again tomorrow," Secretary Denby declared emphatically after leaving the cabinet meeting at the White House today.

He added that he had not resigned.

"There is no question whatever in my mind but that the best interests of the public were served by the leases as made," Denby continued. "The question involved is so much bigger than any individual that I would advocate making these leases if I knew it would force my removal."

This is the first statement Denby has made since the demand for his resignation was raised, and coming as it did directly after leaving the president at the regular cabinet session, it was believed that the stand the secretary was taking doubtless carried the approval of Mr. Coolidge.

Defends Roosevelt. "I want to say emphatically that Colonel Roosevelt is in no way involved in these leases," the secretary continued.

"I take the fullest responsibility for them myself. I cannot say too often that Colonel Roosevelt should be free from any suspicion whatsoever."

Asked whether he had offered his resignation to the president, Denby replied:

"I have not. This would not be the time to do that."

"The navy is absolutely free from implication in the leases. I am glad to have the opportunity of stating that no officers of the navy are involved in any way."

"I would like to see the Robinson resolution openly voted on so that a record could be made of the names of those senators who would stand up and besmirch the names of men who have never been tried or even heard."

Partisan Encounter. The oil scandal today began to swing rapidly towards an open and undisguised partisan political encounter between Republicans and Democrats when debate in the senate opened.

Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, regular Republican, who is chairman of the senate public lands committee, investigating the leasing scandal, delivered a violent attack on critics of President Coolidge.

"The attempt to attach some stigma of blame in this matter to the president of the United States," said Lenroot, "is politics and nothing else. If Democratic senators had doubts concerning the legality of these leases—and I know they had—why did not some of them at any time during the past two years introduce a resolution calling on the president to begin suit to annul the leases?"

Lenroot said he knew Senator Walsh, Montana, had always considered the leases illegal, because of lack of power to make them. Lenroot's speech was a direct re-

Red Tape In Muscle Shoals Quiz Angers Ford; Refuses to Appear

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Henry Ford today flatly refused to appear before the house military affairs committee to explain his bid for Muscle Shoals.

He also declined to send any representative. Last week the committee telegraphed Ford asking him to come in person or send someone empowered to speak for him to explain certain phases of his offer.

"Your committee has had our proposal before you for practically two years," Ford telegraphed Chairman Kahn of the committee. "Mr. Mayo, our representative, has appeared before you on numerous occasions and every phase of our offer has been discussed."

"I know of nothing we can add that would be helpful. Further hearings would only serve to delay action and unnecessarily to consume the time of a busy and important committee of congress already in possession of all of the facts."

$729,858,451 For Treasury and Postoffice Bureaus For Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Funds totalling $729,858,451 for use by the treasury and postoffice departments during the coming fiscal year are carried in a joint supply bill reported to the house today. Of this amount, $609,978,246 is for the postoffice department and $119,880,205 for the treasury. The total carried in the bill is $1,874,830, more than was appropriated for the two departments last year and $5,447,697 less than the budget estimates.

A total of $19,529,770 is provided for prohibition enforcement—$1,629,770 more than was provided for the purpose during the current year. The bill carries $51,000 for the purchase of motor launches in combating liquor smuggling.

The coast guard, which has a part in prohibition enforcement, is allotted $10,651,649, or $793,881 less than last year. The customs service is given $12,874,140 or $1,555,640 more than has been available this year.

The allotment for the postoffice department carries $1,500,000 for airplane mail service, the same amount granted a year ago.

BRITISH LABOR CABINET ENDS RAIL STRIKE

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The new Labor government cleared its first hurdle through settlement of the national rail strike, which was reached at 5 o'clock this morning after all night conference of railway engineers and union leaders.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald left for Edinburgh shortly afterward on a private visit, smiling broadly in answer to cheers at the station. J. Bromley, leader of the striking locomotive engineers and firemen, said after the conference broke up:

"The terms reached were most satisfactory. The men will return to work immediately."

The rail strike lasted just eight days. Members of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen went out at midnight on January 20th, after negotiations failed. The strike was timed to coincide with wage reductions authorized by the national wage board, to which engineers and firemen objected.

The walkout affected some 70,000 men.

A DANDY RAIN

It is hard to estimate the great benefit of a rain such as we have had. It will not only be of great benefit to the dry farmers all over the state, but will work wonders for the local ranchers as well as the thousands of gardens in this section. For gardens and lawns nothing takes the place of rain, seeds germinating and plants developing a great deal better than from irrigation alone.

At this time we wish to call your particular attention to the complete lines of seed that we are offering. We have a complete stock of bulk garden seeds, as well as thousands upon thousands of packet seeds from which to select. Our flower seed assortment is especially complete on standard goods, as well as a nice assortment of novelty flowers.

Don't forget this is a fine time to plant lawns. We have high test Blue Grass and White Clover seed for sale, as well as a good grade of Blood fertilizer and a fine ground Sheep Manure. Heavy Peruvian and Chilean Alfalfa seed, which we carry, all tests considerably over 99% in purity and over 90% in germination. It is fancy cleaned stock and should not be confused with the cheaper grade of machine run stuff.

We are now selling choice Gladioli bulbs, from Briggs of Monterey; and by March we will be able to offer you a nice selection of Dahlias.

There is a planting chart for this month posted in our store. Drop in and examine it. Every Californian should have a garden and a lawn.

POPULAR "PECOA" NOW IS "WILSO"

As a result of a temporary injunction by the Nevada courts, restraining Wilson and company, Inc., of California from using the name "Pecoa" for their nut margarine after February 17th, that company announces that while the matter is being decided in the higher courts the name "Wilso" will be substituted for "Pecoa".

The Wilson people state that there will be no change in the product or in the carton, with the exception of the change of name referred to above. While the temporary injunction was secured by a competitor who alleged a similarity in names, the Wilson people maintained that the name Pecoa was not an infringement upon any other trade name, but was simply a coined word to denote the principal ingredients of the product, namely, the oils of the Peanut and Coconut. Until this matter is finally adjudicated, however, it will be necessary for the thousands of friends of "Pecoa" after February 17th, to order it under the name of "Wilso."

Royal Neighbors

At the latest meeting of the Royal Neighbors, all new officers save two were in charge. One member was received by transfer, Mrs. Carrie Kauffman of Lady Maud camp, Platte, Kansas, and three were initiated, Mrs. Marian Johnson, Mrs. Rileena Chambers and H. H. Hanson.

Carl Tibbitts was elected drill master and in the business session the 11 members were mentioned. A social hour was marked by the serving of refreshments.

All Royal Neighbors expressed themselves as hoping that transient members of the lodge might take the opportunity to visit the local sessions and called attention to the fact that the meeting night were the second and fourth Monday in each month at Modern Woodman hall.

KFAW PROGRAM OFFERING IS VARIED

KFAW broadcast an excellent program last night, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock. The offerings were distinguished by class and variety.

Robert Woodward, late of the Scott Grand Opera company and the San Carlo Opera company, rendered two baritone solos, disclosing a big voice of power and quality. Woodward is visiting in Orange and this fact made possible his appearance at KFAW.

Miss Sonya Mitchell, well-known in musical circle in Portland, Ore., was Woodward's accompanist. She also gave a piano solo.

Joseph Pantalone, tenor, sang two numbers in the artistic manner which has made him a big KFAW favorite.

Miss M. Helene Peterson gave two readings from her own poems. Interspersed among these numbers were several piano and violin numbers offered by pupils of Miss Leona Tompkins and Edward Bear of the Sherwood Music school.

Each of the young artists performed in a style which bespoke for them splendid musical training coupled with natural talent.

Here is the complete program broadcast last night:

Reading, "My Homeland," a greeting to Iowa; and "The Globe Trotter," a message to shut-ins.

Miss M. Helene Peterson; piano group, Fireflies (Grant-Schaefer), Florence Resnick, 10 years old; violin solo "Infant Paganini Fantasia," Rowena Newcomb, accompanied by Helen Drake; piano group, "Musical Clock" (Servus), and "Spanish Waltz" (Terhume), Perry Carmody, 10 years old; baritone solo, (a) "Remember the Rose," (b) "Macushla," Robert Woodward.

Miss Sonya Mitchell at the piano; piano solo, "War March of the Priests" (Mendelssohn), Miss Sonya Mitchell; tenor solo, (a) "Ideal" (Tosti), (b) "Marchetta" (Schertzing), Joseph Pantalone, Miss Leona Tompkins at the piano; violin solo, "Soldiers' Song" (Vogt), Arthur Stierle, 10 years old, accompanied by Mrs. Stierle; piano solo, "Crescendo" (Lassen), (b) "Top of the Morning" (Scott), Lois Allen; piano solo, "Zephyr" (Heller), Olive Standfield.

KFAW's next concert program Thursday night will be given by William Somnacher's Chromatic dance orchestra.

Mrs. George Briggs of 644 North Broadway will leave tomorrow for Merced, where she will join a party of friends for a trip into Yosemite. They will remain ten days and expect to enjoy a real snow storm, as was experienced by the same excursion party last year.

Mrs. Val Sherman, who has been here on an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Melrose of 1904 Bush street, left for her home in Denver, Colo., last Sunday. Mr. Sherman was also here for the holidays.

Mrs. J. A. Manwarring and Miss Ruth Whitte of Hollywood and Mrs. Olive Lopez of this city motored to Ventura for the weekend. They paid a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Briggs at the California state school.

Mr. Briggs is assistant engineer and Mrs. Briggs head matron at the school. They were former residents of Santa Ana.

Mrs. George Cole of Riverside was in the city today, a guest at a bridge tea given by her cousin, Mrs. Clarence Gustlin at her home, 816 North Main street.

Mrs. Gustlin will be hostess at luncheons on Friday of this week and on Wednesday of next week.

Mrs. Mary Heathman returned yesterday from a pleasant ten-day visit with her cousin Mrs. F. M. Elsey at Long Beach.

GIRL IN ATTACK CASE GUARDS HER SECRET

How a 15-year-old Huntington Beach girl, asserted victim of an attack by Everett O'Dowd, 30, guarded her secret, fearing the wrath of her father and the effect of the shock on her sick mother, was told today as O'Dowd was held in the county jail here, under $3,000 bail, on a statutory charge.

Until necessity forced her to open her lips, the girl remained silent and even now, the authorities declared today, the mother, now critically ill, has not been informed of the alleged attack, which was said to have occurred some weeks ago.

On a warrant issued at the instance of the girl's father, O'Dowd was taken into custody and arraigned late yesterday before Justice J. B. Cox, who fixed bail, and set the preliminary hearing for February 29, at 10 a. m.

That she feared to tell her mother because the shock might prove fatal, and that she dreaded to tell her father, fearing that he would slay the guilty man and thus, bring more trouble down upon the family, was the reason given by the young girl for keeping her secret as long as she dared.

O'Dowd, it was said by the authorities, has indicated that he may waive preliminary examination and allow the case to be carried at once to the superior court.

TOPEKA, Jan. 29.—Attorney-General Griffith has filed in the state supreme court a petition for the removal of Maurice O'Keefe, county attorney of Atchison county, on charges of failure to prosecute liquor cases and of personal misconduct.

Recorder Warns Of Bigger Fines In Traffic Cases

"Fines are small now, but I will not be so lenient to offenders from now on by this time everyone should be acquainted with the new state and the city traffic ordinances," stated W. F. Heathman, city recorder, as he read today's report of the latest asserted violations. They follow:

H. C. Rupp was fined $2 for parking in the restricted district and for not displaying required registration certificates; Jerome Kidd, muffler open, $5 fine; Mrs. J. R. Benson, parking in restricted district, $2; William N. Polston, parking with 15 feet of fire hydrant, $3; John Doe, parking in restricted district, $2; Ralph S. Merry, parking car facing wrong direction, $3; Pedro Maldonado, parking across lines painted on street, discharged with reprimand; Mrs. Anna Graham, parking overtime in restricted district and having no registration certificate, $5.

LEGION MUSICAL SHOW CHORUS REHEARSES

Something decidedly new awaits Santa Ana theater-goers in "Oh, Oh Cindy!", extravaganza extraordinary which is to be presented at the Yost theater February 5 and 6 under the auspices of Santa Ana post 131, American Legion, according to Legion men who have attended rehearsals.

The lines of the libretto are among the funniest they had ever heard, these Legionnaires added. There will be dances and bevy of pretty Santa Ana girls. Native grass costumes of the South Sea islands are to be worn in one chorus. The rehearsals indicate that there will be very good singing, and that the songs are clever and original.

All members of the cast and choruses, as well as those of the various committees, are highly enthusiastic in their desire to make the show a great success, both financially and artistically, and no efforts are being spared in this regard.

Under the direction of R. W. Judd, the cast and choruses are rapidly assimilating their parts, and a well rounded-out performance is indicated in the progress made so far.

BURIAL PLACES DECADE OLD VISITED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—An invasion of the seldom frequented cemeteries within the heart of San Francisco was undertaken by the board of supervisors to acquaint themselves with conditions existing in the four burial places which have been closed for more than a decade. A score of other interested persons, representing organizations favoring and opposing an ordinance ordering the removal of the corpses, joined in the trip.

The sights that greeted the visitors were grim and unusual, and were admittedly worse than had been anticipated. With but one exception the trip tended to convince the supervisors more firmly than ever that the cemeteries should be removed.

Monuments in Ruins
Plots that were once beautiful, with well-kept lawns and shrubbery bordering the edges, have disintegrated into patches where weeds and dead bushes cast an unseemly and weird appearance. Monuments that were the pride of individuals and the cemetery have toppled over, been destroyed or ruined so that their appearance adds to the unsightliness. Plots that more than a decade ago solemnly received the dead have either been robbed of their corpses by removal and left in a deplorable state, or have been covered with debris, fallen trees or other objects.

It is estimated that in the Masonic cemetery a third of the bodies have already been disinterred and either incinerated or placed in other burial grounds. Conditions there do not belie statistics, for the cemetery is in a deplorable state. While graves have been opened, no attempt to conceal this fact has been made, and the plots have been strewn with debris. Miscreants and neglect have ruined Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Wreckage and Ruin
Calvary cemetery has also become a scene of wreckage and ruin. Laurel Hill cemetery was the only one to present a fairly good appearance in spots, particularly on Senator Hill, where the remains of such famous pioneers as Senators Broderick, Sargent and Latham remain in picturesque shrines. Here also are the bodies of Dr. Cooper, founder of Cooper's Medical College; R. B. Woodward, founder of Woodward's Gardens, and I. Friedlander, famous pioneer. But in the extremities of this cemetery are the same evidences of abandonment of graves as are in the others, and the weeds and wreckage are strewn about the vicinity.

Each of the cemeteries have worked out a plan of disposal of the bodies, if the ordinance is put through. It was said, Laurel Hill would build a magnificent structure three stories high. The bodies would be cremated, put in crypts in the lower floor; on the second floor would be a memorial hall, and the top floor would be a historical library.

FOG DISPLACES MUCH DESIRED RAIN HERE

A heavy fog here early today came in place of the rain that was hoped for.

According to Hill and Son records, only .08 of an inch of moisture was precipitated between 7 a. m. yesterday and the same hour today, making the season total to date 5.40 inches.

In forecasting today's weather for Southern California, the weather bureau in Los Angeles held out no encouragement for more rain. Cloudy weather was predicted for Southern California as a whole. According to reports from Los Angeles, it was not even cloudy there. The precipitation in Santa Ana for the storm was .34 of an inch. It did a vast amount of good but was not sufficient to be of lasting benefit and was not in the amount desired. The rain was beneficial to pasture lands and garden crops, but did not sink deep enough to insure grain yields, according to reports.

According to H. B. Hersey, observer at Los Angeles, more rain may come in the next ten days.

Reports from over the Southland indicate that Santa Barbara benefited most from the storm, 1.60 inches being recorded there.

Figures for the storm show rainfall at different stations as follows:

Corona, .22; Escondido, .18; Los Angeles Harbor, .24; Newport Beach, .23; Pasadena, .98; Pomona, .44; Redlands, .15; Riverside, .15; San Bernardino, .40; San Fernando, .61; Los Angeles, .36; San Diego, .10.

Betrothals Weddings ReceptionsEbell Program Proves Of Unusual Charm And Beauty

Winning the attention of her audience with her first group of songs, three of which were sung in their original French and the fourth, "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" by Quilter, in English, Florence Middaugh speedily won their warm and enthusiastic approval as well yesterday when she sang before the women of Ebell society assembled at the Yost theater for the January program.

Tall and willowy, gowned in green, Miss Middaugh looked like one of the sheathed flowers in the gardens of which she sang, for whether by design or by accident, the contralto chose her songs to reflect much that was beautiful in nature.

She was assisted on the program by two Santa Anans of whom the townspeople feel justly proud, Miss Margaret Wickes for her musical ability and her sister, Minna Mae Lewis, for her power on interpreting the thoughts of others by her readings.

Walter Adam Allen was Miss Middaugh's accompanist, offering a beautiful and sympathetic musical background for her songs. These were divided into three groups, the second including "White Hyacinths" (Hawson) "Yesterday" (Pergus) and "The Heart of a Rose" by Warren. This was an especially beautiful group and showed the richness of the singer's voice perfectly as well as its range and flexibility.

"Rain," made familiar to Santa Anans by the spirited and beautiful manner in which Miss Louise Montgomery has sung it, was given as an encore and sung most beautifully.

Spirited Outdoor Group.
The final group offered "Who'll Buy My Lavender?" "Four Ducks on a Pond," "Tally Ho" and "Minor and Major" all constituting a radical change in spirit from the previous numbers and exemplifying the power of Miss Middaugh to interpret different moods. A big contributing factor to the enjoyment of the club was the singing of the singer who gave every syllable its full value so that the lovely text of her songs, so often lost to hearers because of throaty singing and slurred enunciation, was heard and appreciated.

In response to the continued applause at the conclusion of her program, Miss Middaugh sang the "Salutation of the Arabs," with its appropriate message: "I pray the prayer that the East-erns do, May the peace of the Allah abide with you."

The musical setting which so greatly added to the beauty of the little message, was the work of a close friend of the singer and of several Santa Anans including Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mrs. Henry Hawson of Fresno who also composed the setting for "White Hyacinths" and who frequently summers at Laguna Beach.

The second division of the program was given over to Miss Lewis whose presentation of Annie Fellows Johnston's "The Desert of Waiting" held her audience in breathless silence as the lovely tale was unfolded and carried its message to every heart. The musical setting of the story was played by its composer, Miss Wickes and the audience heartily agreed that it added immeasurably to the beauty of the whole.

Miss Lewis proved to have a richly sympathetic voice and an extremely flexible one by which she was able to convey every shade of meaning to her audience.

Brilliant Technique.
Miss Margaret Wickes appeared in the third grouping of the program with her piano numbers, opening with the brilliant "Air de Ballet" of Moszkowski. By request she substituted Chopin's "Waltz in E Minor" for the Gluck-Brahms "Gavotte" which was second on her program and completed the trio of compositions by a second Chopin number, "Scherzo in B Flat Minor." Her remarkable technique and brilliancy of execution made the addition to the program one of delight. Miss Wickes is especially fine in her Chopin interpretations which she plays with a degree of brilliancy never attained by other than a true artist, and even then very rarely by a woman player.

At the brief business session preceding the program, Mrs. Angus J. Crookshank, the president, asked that those returning tickets for the Frederick Warde lecture scheduled for February 1 at the high school auditorium, would include their names with the returned tickets in order that the club books might be kept straight and to simplify matters in the final arrangements of the lecturer's appearance. Money for the tickets sold, is to be turned in to Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, corresponding secretary since Mrs. R. G. Tutthill, recording secretary, is in the north for a several weeks' stay.

Different Topics.
In response to a brief talk by J. P. Baumgartner, a little group of members appointed by Mrs. Crookshank, went to lunch today with a group of Y. M. C. A. workers to confer on the final whirlwind campaign to raise funds for the completion of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Isabel Anderson, girls' advisor at the high school, was introduced and spoke on the employment service recently organized through her office at the school.

"The service is primarily to help those girls who are forced to help themselves through school," said Miss Anderson as she outlined the conditions which she and her advisory committee of the Parent-Teachers' association have tentatively adopted for high school girls' employment in homes.

News Notes of Interest To WomenAndrew Kramer Claims Wisconsin Maiden As His Bride

Located for the time being in a pretty cottage on Fruit street, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kramer were today receiving the congratulations and happy wishes of their hosts of friends who had just learned of the quiet wedding which on Friday, January 25, united Mr. Kramer and the girl of his choice, Miss Genevieve Bowser, formerly of Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

The Rev. Father Henry Eumelen read the impressive marriage service at St. Joseph's Catholic church. The bride was lovely in soft black crepe satin, coral trimmed and worn with a fetching black lace hat. She carried coral red roses.

Attending the happy couple were Mr. Kramer's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Maag wearing black also, her trock being of velvet and her hat a smart little spring model. Her flowers were white carnations.

Returning from a brief motor honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Kramer were guests at a delightful dinner party at the home of the M. Kramer's, 717 Winter street.

Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Kramer and for the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kramer; Mr. and Mrs. William H. Maag and children, Edwin and Marilyn, Miss Clara Kramer, Charles Kramer, home from his dental studies at U. S. C. for the occasion, and an aunt of the family, Mrs. G. Mattes.

A pleasant feature of the dinner was the huge wedding cake surmounted by a bride and groom. Mrs. Kramer in her capacity as a bride, had the honor of cutting and serving the delicious confection.

The young people will make their home in Santa Ana for the present although Mr. Kramer is anticipating that his work as welder in the oil fields, may take him to Torrance in the near future.

Mrs. Kramer has spent several months in Santa Ana at different times. Last year with her sister, Miss Josephine Bowser, she came from her Wisconsin home and remained for the summer winning many friends by her courtesy as one of the sales force at the Rankin store.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Genevieve returned to Santa Ana only in time for the wedding of last Friday.

Maccabees

Recent installation ceremonies of the Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees held at the M. W. A. hall proved highly interesting to a large concourse of local members and many visitors from other chapters, notably Riverside, California and others in Oregon and Montana.

Mrs. Hattie Peters was a most capable installing officer and was ably assisted by Mrs. Decia Jasper as lady of ceremonies. Following the initiation, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments of pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee, served.

New officers installed were past commander, Maggie Erickson; commander, Annie Arnold; lieutenant commander, Annie Towner; chaplain, Laura Moye; collector, Margaret Culver; finance keeper, Ivy Olson; record keeper, May Curtis; lady at arms, Cora Woods; sergeant, Mary Callahan; sentinel, Helene Galbraith; picket, Mary Schlusman; color bearers, Decia Jasper, Elizabeth Hoxie; musician, Etta Erickson.

MEXICAN FEDERALS REPORT BIG GAINS

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29.—"General Serrano reports Esperanza and Oriental have been taken by federal forces," the war office announced today.

"Our troops are continuing their advance on Orizaba which is expected to fall within two days," the rebels have suffered 2500 casualties.

"We have captured much war material and several trains."

MRS. OBREGON RUSHES TO FATHER'S BEDSIDE
NOGALES, Ariz., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Maria Tapia de Obregon, wife of President Obregon of Mexico, passed through this city late yesterday en route to Hermosillo, Sonora, her former home.

Mrs. Obregon was traveling with attendants in two special drawing room cars, and was guarded by a detachment of sixty soldiers.

The party was joined here by Governor Alejo Bay, chief executive of Sonora, a relative of the president's wife.

It was understood Mrs. Obregon was called to Hermosillo by the illness of her father.

phasized the need of good environment and kindly advice for a high school girl, also of sympathy and encouragement in her effort to receive an education through her own endeavors.

The important point of Miss Anderson's talk was her plea that the women of the city co-operate in the efforts being made to assist high school girls to finish school and at the same time give them the finest influence and help.

At the close of the afternoon's program, dozens of the clubwomen motored to the new clubhouse where they were delighted to see the progress made in recent weeks of the building. During the business session, action had been taken on minor matters connected with the building, such as the balcony supports in the auditorium, a few changes in hardware and kindred matters.

Former President of Kiwanis Addresses Business Women

It was to a representative group of keenly interested business and professional women that Lieutenant-Colonel M. Burr Wellington yesterday outlined some of the matters of moment in the world today, presenting in a comparatively brief space of time, an amazing fund of general information with his own enlightening comment.

The occasion was the weekly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at St. Ann's Inn, and Wellington, former president of Santa Ana Kiwanis club, had his first experience in addressing the city's sole women's lunch club.

Were it one third as interesting an experience for him as he made it for his hearers, he was well repaid. Opening with a reference to the prevailing interest in the national political situation, the speaker pointed out the manner in which President Coolidge, is strengthening his ties daily by the same and sensible willingness to acquaint himself with his opponent's views and cited his habit of using the presidential yacht, the Mayflower, as a means to draw his adherents and opponents together for quiet consideration of different subjects.

The financial situation in the midwest was one of its share of consideration, and the abandonment of countless farms purchased at the recent height of prices, the failure of many banks and the means by which it was hoped congress might alleviate the situation by new banking laws, were all discussed.

Railroad conditions following the government control of the roads, legislation that will aid in overcoming the tremendous results led logically to a discussion of the Mellon bill and the question of tax reduction.

While domestic problems formed the main topic of the talk foreign affairs were touched upon especially the situation in Russia and the political upheaval that is likely to follow the death of Nicolai Lenin.

The attitude of France and England in regard to the French occupation of the Ruhr was lightly touched upon and the effect that it had in placing a labor leader, Ramsey McDonald, as prime minister in England.

Tracing an analogy between the thirteen original colonies and their adoption of state rights in this country, and the present situation among nations, the speaker voiced as his belief that in order to avert future and still more terrible wars, the nations would have to join together in much the same form except with more care observed in freedom given individual government. Until that time arrives, he expressed himself as being strongly in favor of military training for young men, declaring that no war had ever been won by the standing army but by the citizenry.

Major Wellington was the final speaker arranged for the January committee of which Dr. Mary Wright was chairman and brought an unusually interesting series of programs to a close. The February committee comprising Miss Verdelie Breckenridge, Miss Roberta Briggs, Mayme Brightwell and Lorraine French will have the coming month's weekly programs outlined and ready to be made public in the near future.

KILBURN TO COACH BEACH SWIMMERS
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—Jack Kilburn, local swimmer and holder of the far western championship in 1920 recently took over the position of coach of the local swimming team at the plunge. Coach Kilburn proposed to give lessons for beginners and others who can swim but who are not experts. The course also will include pointers on diving.

A swimming meet on a small scale is held at the plunge here every Saturday. Swimmers from over the county are invited by Kilburn to these contests. Prizes are awarded to race winners. First place winners are given a fine swimming suit, free admission to the plunge and a membership in the local club.

Both girls and boys races are held and the recent step of the Santa Ana girls' team to the plunge every Tuesday afternoon is expected to add to the interest of swimming in the county.

Poison Kills Man Uniting in Prayer
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—During a period of prayer in the Pentecostal Mission, 614 Pacific street, a poorly dressed man in a rear row fell into a heap, senseless. Believing that the man was ill other members of the mission congregation revived him, as he gasped that he had swallowed poison. He was hurried to Harbor Emergency hospital, where he died a short time after his arrival. A note in the man's pockets asked that Mrs. Lottie M. Dilly of San Francisco be notified in event of emergency. It was signed "O. E. Dilly," and dated from Agnew State hospital.

Interest Manifested In Appearance of Frederick Warde

Much interest is being displayed in the appearance here on Friday evening of the veteran Shakespearean actor, author and orator, Frederick Warde. Mr. Warde will lecture at the high school auditorium, appearing under the auspices of the Ebell club, and the proceeds of the lecture will go into the Ebell clubhouse fund.

The entertainment will begin promptly at 7:30, Mr. Warde's lecture being preceded by a half hour's ceded by the High School Boys' Band under the leadership of Professor S. J. Mustol. This band has made a most enviable reputation for itself and for its leader, and the concert is sure to be very greatly enjoyed.

Frederick Warde needs no introduction to a Santa Ana audience. Within the past two years he has lectured before the Ebell club, the Teachers' league and before the high school assembly.

In the good old days when the old Grand Opera house was the theatrical center of Orange county, Frederick Warde, Louis James, Modjeska and other truly great ones of the world of make-believe used to appear there.

As the beloved Father Serra of the Mission Play, Mr. Warde won new laurels and greatly endeared himself to the vast numbers of people who make an annual pilgrimage to San Gabriel for the famous pageant.

Sometimes with the gayest and most delightful humor, again with a wistful tenderness, Mr. Warde gives his memories of the stars of the past, and his own upon the boards for more than half a century. Booth, Modjeska, Barrett, Louis James, Kathryn Kidder—these and many more—were warm friends and fellow-actors with whom Frederick Warde has trod the stage in its brilliant yesterday. He is not without equally warm friends among the stage and screen favorites of today.

For instance, Mr. Warde recounts a most delightful tale of Douglas Fairbanks, then a handsome Denver high school lad, who gained his first acquaintance with the stage in Frederick Warde's company.

"He began as a Roman soldier, a member of the mob, or as any other character where enthusiasm and not experience placed him," says Mr. Warde, and he goes on to give assurance that the enthusiasm and energy of the doubtless Douglas made him worth at least five ordinary Roman citizens or soldiers.

Tickets for Friday's lecture, which will be upon "The Fools of Shakespeare," are on sale at the Santa Ana Book store. Two tickets have been sent to each Ebell member, which she will either pay for herself, sell to someone else, or return. These tickets, or the money for them, must be sent to Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, 401 Hickey street, if any Ebell member feels that she must return the tickets, she must be sure to send her name with them, for otherwise she cannot be credited with them.

Student tickets are for sale at half price.

Autos Crash, But Injuries Slight
In a collision between two automobiles on the Laguna Beach boulevard about half way between Irvine and the head of Laguna canyon, Sunday, occupants of the cars escaped with minor injuries, it was stated. No report of the accident was made to the authorities and the names of the persons involved in the collision were not learned.

Whites Open New Chita Rebellion
PEKIN, Jan. 29.—A "white" rebellion has broken out in Chita, Siberia, according to an unconfirmed report to the French legation here today.

The Chinese postoffice has received an official report saying European mails over the trans-Siberian railway have not arrived and the Trans-Siberian express has not reached Chita.

Hostess Group Offers Pleasant Affair For Two Honorees

Planned to honor two happy young matrons was a pleasant affair of recent date when Mrs. Dorothy Robb, Mrs. Muriel Hale and Mrs. Vera Rochester were a trio of hostesses while Mrs. Margaret Graham and Mrs. Edna Day were the honorees.

The pretty home of the A. B. Joplins at 606 North Parton street, was the scene of the gayety and was adorned with many beautiful pink and white blossoms in decorative effect. One of the trio of hostesses, Mrs. Rochester, is a daughter of the home.

Several interesting games were introduced to vary the sewing which formed the chief entertainment of the afternoon. When the guests were invited to the dining room they found the table appropriately centered with a stately stork while ribbons and ferns added to the decorative effect.

Emphasizing the dainty color scheme were the ices which were cunning little pink kewpies and served with pink and white cake, mints and salted nuts.

The occasion brought together a friendly group of former school and college friends all of whom took keen pleasure in selecting dainty and suitable gifts for the two honorees, in honor of the important events of the future.

In addition to the hostess and guest group, Mrs. Robb, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Rochester, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Day, those enjoying the affair were Mrs. A. B. Joplins, Mrs. Mabel Osborn, Mrs. Lorna Prunty, Mrs. Edith Meyer, Mrs. Vera Elliott, Miss Esther Osborn, Santa Ana; Miss Gladys McDonald and Miss Betty Vaughn, Los Angeles; Miss Lois Boyce, Long Beach; Miss Margie Siff, Escondido; Mrs. Edith Jester, Orange and Mrs. Lois Osterman, El Toro.

The two honorees are both of Santa Ana as is Mrs. Robb of the hostess group, Mrs. Hale is from Orange and Mrs. Rochester is a Costa Mesa.

Unitarian Minister To Be Honor Guest

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church will entertain the members and friends of the church Thursday, January 31, at 7:30 p. m., with the Rev. and Mrs. Edson Reifsnider as guests of honor.

The Rev. Francis Wattry, a former pastor, the Rev. Oliver J. Fairfield of Long Beach, and the Rev. Cora Van Lambert, recently from Chicago, have been invited to be present and participate in the evening's program.

In addition to a social hour, light refreshments will be served and there will be a short musical program under the direction of Mrs. Jay Hamill and Mrs. C. H. Stanley.

All those interested in the opening of the church are cordially invited to embrace this opportunity of making new acquaintances, renewing old friendships and strengthening church ties. The reception will be held at the church, corner of Eighth and Bush streets.

NEW THEATER READY

Walker's Orange County to Be
Mecca for Local Playgoers;
Screen Stars to Appear

Tonight at 6:30 o'clock, C. E. Walker will throw open the doors of his new Orange County theater to the public for the first time. A lavish dedicatory program in keeping with the brilliance of the occasion has been arranged and many important figures of the film and stage world will come to Santa Ana to join hands with local citizens in making the affairs a memorable one.

Santa Anans may well feel proud of this new amusement edifice for it represents as fine an example of theater art as can be found in Orange county. Architecturally it can scarcely be surpassed in the state. In its appointments nothing has been spared to create luxurious comfort for its patrons. A fitting monument to Walker's faith in Santa Ana, the Orange County theater undoubtedly will be immediately established as the mecca of hundreds of local amusement seekers.

To Show Big Pictures.
The finest motion picture attractions and vaudeville that can be obtained will be housed in the Orange county. Manager Walker announces.

In assuring an excellence of screen features, Walker has signed contracts whereby all Metro, Universal and Goldwyn and other big productions will be given exclusive first-run showing here.

"The Man From Brodney's," a screen version of the famous stage play with Alice Calhoun, J. Warren Kerrigan, Wanda Hawley, Pat O'Malley, Miss Dupont and Bert Ram Grassy in the leading roles, will be tonight's attraction. Through the courtesy of the Vitagraph Film corporation, the showing of "The Man From Brodney's," will give the world premiere of this picture to Santa Ana.

Stars Here Tonight.
One of the many unusual surprises of the premiere program will be the personal appearance of all of the cast of "The Man From Brodney's," and Norma Shearer and Huntley Gordon, popular favorites who will soon be seen on the Walker theater screen in "Pleasure Mad." Victor Schertzinger, well known director and composer, who is directing Jackie Coogan at the present time, will be master of ceremonies. As a special feature, Miss Dorothy Dodd, celebrated soprano will sing Mr. Schertzinger's most popular number, "Marcheta," to the accompaniment of the composer.

Prominent film officials who are coming from Los Angeles to attend the opening include Ben F. Rosenberg, manager of the Metro organization, Charles Marley of Vitagraph, H. D. McBride, J. T. Brown, Bert Lennon and Phil Gersdorf.

"BIG BROTHER" OPENS AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

"Big Brother," an Allan Dawn production of the story by Rex Beach, is a bear for thrills; there is not a lagging moment throughout its entire length. This is the greatest of Rex Beach's works—greatest because he wrote it from his heart. The picture begins a six-day engagement at the Temple theater tonight.

It is an altogether unusual production, in that it depicts graphically just what the Big Brother movement is endeavoring to accomplish throughout the world—the proper raising of the boys and youths—the future men of the land on whom the destiny of their country rests. It is the story of one "big brother," taken as a concrete example of what is to be generally expected from others the world over.

Without the clever acting of Tom Moore, Edith Roberts and Mickey Bennett and the impressive character portrayal of Raymond Hatton the vital theme of "Big Brother" would go for naught.

KINSHIP IS PROVEN
BY "WAR THIMBLE"

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A silver thimble, carried through the Revolutionary, Civil and Indian wars by three members of an old family of New Jersey, was exhibited in Raymond street jail by 72-year-old George Doty to prove to 92-year-old Margaret Later that he was her long lost son.

The first soldier, Doty, a member of Marlon's men, was given a thimble for his kit when he left his cabin in the Jersey wilds. He used it in patching his uniform, and when he died gave it to a son. The son's wife used it in sewing for soldiers in 1812, and it was passed on to her son, who carried it through the Civil war.

It fell into the hands of George when he went west of the Mississippi for the Indian wars. Twenty-five years ago he left his home in Branchville, N. J., for a trip to Brooklyn. His father died and his mother married again. George's whereabouts was unknown to her until she read that a George Doty had been arrested here for stealing a photograph.

Later, Mrs. Later, carrying a box of chocolates and a pair of slippers, went to the jail. George had changed, and she declared she could not recognize him. But did he carry the "war thimble?"

He reached into a pocket of his battered best and drew it forth. "You bad boy," scolded his mother, "why did you run away?"

George asked forgiveness, so his mother promised to appear in court and ask his release so he could go back home to Branchville.

Whips Used to Pep Up Extras In Africa Film

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Montagu Love, husky American screen idol, has returned to Paris from Africa with interesting tales about making films in the Sahara.

"The Sahara produces the cheapest extras in the world," the star said. "In Touegart we bought up an entire town, including the chief and all the officials, for 1000 francs. Hard-boiled overseers with black-snake whips prevented the extras from loafing during the mob scenes."

ANOTHER GAS PROBE
DETROIT, Jan. 29.—The arbitration board is trying to learn why the Detroit Gas company made gas for 45 cents and sold it for 75 cents and yet in the first ten months in 1923 lost $47,789.

Isadora's Hubby Is Disgraced, Say Reds in Russia

RIGA, Jan. 29.—At the trial of Serge Essenine, the Bolshevik poet and husband of Isadora Duncan, before the "Comrades' court," he may be accused of conduct unbecoming a Communist. He may be expelled.

"Abroad, while enjoying the hospitality of bourgeois countries," says the Moscow Pravda, "Comrade Essenine, when he transgressed the bounds of decency, was merely thrown out of restaurants and private houses. His conduct is a disgrace to all Communists, and the degenerate revels staged by him and his poet friends are a disgrace to Moscow. Essenine must be disciplined."

JAZZ POSSESSES BEAUTY; TO STAY, TEACHERS TOLD

"Jazz is here and it is here to stay." "There is an element of beauty in jazz. You can find in it what you want to find, as you can find in everything what you are looking for. I like good jazz. I will make the best of it; I will get the best there is in it."

Santa Ana teachers were today discussing these statements, made at a City Teachers' league dinner at St. Ann's Inn last night, by Frank Moore Allen, literary editor of the Illinois State Journal, and a lecturer of national note.

The remarks on jazz were made in a lecture on "Living Your Poetry." "What we need today is not more artists, but more appreciators of art," Allen stated. He deplored the tendency of persons not to endeavor to appreciate art, poetry and music.

Sees Too Much Bluffing.
"Real artists do not have to be coddled. There are too many real appreciators," Allen continued. "The mistake in schools and elsewhere in the country, is that we emphasize intellect and submerge beauty."

"I do not depreciate intellect, but I will not acknowledge it king." "There is too much bluffing of appreciation and not enough of the real thing," the noted writer and lecturer declared, in urging teachers not to kill poetry for their students by dissecting it.

"Art appreciation is not an intellectual experience, but it is an emotional experience in the presence of beauty. There is an unwarranted emphasis being placed upon information in these days, and not enough on the pure joy and song of the arts."

With an allusion to "Main Street" and "Babbitt," Allen stated that Sinclair Lewis and other men who were writing modern novels were serving the purpose of the reformer; they were teaching lessons, but not serving or intending to serve the beautiful, he declared.

Cites "Cash Values."
"I have seen more Main Street on Broadway in New York, than in the smallest Minnesota town," Allen said as he cited "two terrible mistakes" the American people were making "in trying to standardize everything, and to measure all things by a cash value."

"You can not measure your art or your poetry by a money standard," he continued. "You must live your art. You cannot put it into words. You must feel it. Happiness and beauty of soul will exist just in proportion to the ability to appreciate beauty."

J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, presided and introduced Miss Ruth Violett, music instructor at the Frances E. Willard junior high school, who gave a piano solo; Miss Edith Cornell of the Julia Lathrop junior high school faculty, whose vocal solo was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano and Mrs. Lena Moon Morgan of the high school faculty, who played a violin solo and was accompanied by Miss Margaret Wickes, also of the high school teaching staff.

State's Climate Most Varied of Any, Say Records

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—California, according to the records of the United States weather bureau here, has a more varied climate than any state in the Union.

The highest temperature ever recorded was registered by a thermometer in California. In the High Sierras, in Alpine county, the heaviest snowfall ever measured in the United States occurred in the winter of 1906-1907.

Death Valley, Cal., has the distinction of going over the top with the thermometer, the mercury rising to 134 degrees in the shade, July 10, 1913. How hot it was in the sun was not recorded, because down in Death Valley they don't hang the thermometers in the sun.

That cold winter of 1906 in Alpine county, 73 feet of snow descended upon the Sierras. The tops of the tallest trees barely protruded through the heavy blanket.

California east of the Sierras has the least rain of any section of the United States. This is where Death Valley lies 178 feet below sea level with an annual precipitation of 1.76 inches. In San Bernardino county the sun works more constantly than in any other part of the United States, according to official record.

Point Reyes on the coast above San Francisco enjoys the coolest summers of any place in the United States, with a mean temperature of 54 degrees. It is also one of the windiest sea level places in the United States.

Bodie, in Mono county, claims the coldest record, the mercury dropping to 36 degrees below zero about twenty years ago.

VAST ORGY OF CRIME BARED BY YOUTHS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—Four star players of the Sacramento high school football team confessed today to perpetrating thirteen local burglaries and the theft of four automobiles, and crimes extending over a period of four months and their loot totaling several thousand dollars.

The youthful robbers are Robert Zarrick, 17; Cecil Norris, 18; Ed Clements, 18, and Curtis Ripley, 18. They were arrested by Detectives Andy Noon, Al Babayo and Frank McAllister while attempting to rob the drug store of Rodda Brothers at Eighteenth and M streets.

Zarrack and Ripley were the first to confess and they implicated Clements and Norris. Later Clements and Norris were grilled by the police, and they also confessed three more burglaries to the list given the officers by Zarrack and Ripley.

Part of the loot obtained by the youths in their burglaries, two of which were attempts to crack safes of local stores, was found by the police, hidden at Zarrack's home. Much of the loot was sold by them, the youths told the officers.

In their confession they declared they were on their way to rob a house at Nineteenth and X streets, where they expected to secure a quantity of wine, when they passed the Rodda drug store and decided to loot it.

The youths made a specialty of entering homes and stores where they thought liquor could be obtained. Hundreds of gallons of wine and large quantities of whiskey were obtained by the quartet, the youths declared in their confession.

Their crimes included the burglary of lockers and the cafeteria at the Sacramento high school, and the theft of clothing, money and jewelry from the members of the Lodi high school football team when it played the local school here last December.

Zarrack, Norris and Clements were among a group of players dismissed from the high school football team last November for insubordination and breaking training rules. The boys were stars of the team, and Norris and Clements were veterans of the 1923 eleven.

Deputy Sheriff, After Prisoner, Gets Auto 'Tag'

The automobile of E. A. Poe, not the immortal Edgar Allan Poe, but a deputy sheriff who hails from Los Angeles—was tagged by Officer Lentz for parking in the restricted district and for having no registration certificate.

A famous name and the title of deputy sheriff will not excuse Poe for his little misdemeanor, according to City Marshal Claude Rogers, so the Los Angeles officer will have to pay a visit to the city hall and explain matters Thursday. At that time he will return, via Santa Ana, from San Diego with a prisoner for whom he was sent.

Suspect Arrested On Serious Charge

Tom Robus, wanted in this county on a statutory charge, was held in custody today at Imperial, according to word received here by Sheriff Sam Jernigan. Sheriff Jernigan expects to leave today or tomorrow to bring the prisoner here.

Robus is accused of committing an offense against a 15-year-old girl at Westminster.

VETERAN EDITOR RETIRES.
MADISON, Jan. 29.—Michael C. Garber, 73, one of the veteran editors of Indiana, has retired from the editorship of the Madison Courier. He was succeeded by his son, Michael Eggleston Garber. His father, Colonel M. C. Garber made the Courier a daily in 1849 and it has remained in the family ever since.

Policemen Object To Examination

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Strong resentment against the questions in the recent civil service examination for police lieutenants in Oakland was admitted by eight of the competing candidates, including police inspectors and sergeants, who asserted that the questions so concerned traffic, booze and narcotics that they favored the two experts in such lines—Sergeants E. W. Brock and Charles Hemphill.

The examination was held to create two new police lieutenants to head the police traffic bureau and the police special service squad now headed by Sergeants Brock and Hemphill.

Hearing of the undercurrent of resentment against the questions, James T. Drew, Chief of Police, conferred with C. C. DeWolf, secretary of the Oakland Civil Service Board. Following the conference, Chief Drew announced that he was "fully satisfied with the fairness of the questions."

Crew of British Freighter Saved

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—A crew of fifty men were rescued

from the sinking British freighter Mary Horlock by the Pacific Mail liner President Taft, at a point 700 miles off the coast of Japan, according to radio advices received by the local offices of the Radio Corporation of America, and the Federal Telegraph company. The radio stated that the cargo of lumber aboard the freighter shifted and caused the vessel to list so badly that the water entered the engine room. The Mary Horlock is commanded by Captain Hill, and sailed from Tacoma December 21. The freighter was built in 1919 in a British shipyard by the Oceanic Transport, Ltd., and is of 4932 net tonnage. She is 400 feet long.

Berkeley Chief Not Apologetic

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Refusing to become excited over the charges of Patrolman George Eldredge against the Police Department of Berkeley, City Manager John N. Edy promised a full statement of his intentions. Eldredge resigned from the police department after filing charges against fellow members of the department and against the police system in general.

Acting Police Chief C. D. Lee declared that he saw no reason for making apologies in defense of the police department. Lee characterized Eldredge's charges as "merely the ravings of a disgruntled employee."

An Important Public Announcement

A competitor, knowing of the remarkable distribution of PECO—The Master Spread for Bread—has stopped the sale of PECO by securing a temporary court injunction effective February 16th restraining us from using the name of PECO.

The people will not be denied PECO quality. It is the finest, purest and highest-grade product of its kind on the market today.

The creator of PECO regrets the inconvenience to the public and itself in this temporary situation.

This case is being carried to a higher court. In the meantime, however, PECO will have a new but temporary name, pending final court settlement. Therefore, PECO will be known as

WILSO

New cartons are now being made and, within a few days, the name WILSO will appear instead of PECO. Otherwise the cartons will be exactly the same in color and design. We direct attention to the fact that this is a change in name only. The same high quality will prevail. There will be nothing better. The name Wilson is your protection now as it has been in the past.

Our Guarantee

Wilson & Co., Inc. GUARANTEE that WILSO will be exactly the same as PECO. Positively no change will be made in the product. The Court injunction affects the name only—not the quality. Only the purest and most wholesome ingredients are used in the manufacture. It contains no animal fats.

We ask housewives to remember this change in name. When you want PECO, you will get it, but under the name WILSO. Do not be confused. Do not allow anyone to force some other brand upon you because they have been temporarily successful in securing an injunction prohibiting our use of our own name PECO.

WILSO is PECO

There is nothing added—nothing taken away. WILSO, like PECO, is a Creation in Goodness—the favorite among thousands of thrifty housewives everywhere. Look for the Wilson label.

MARCH 4 DATE SELECTED FOR SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

Board to Meet Late Today
and Take Formal Steps
Looking to Vote

$250,000 PROPOSALS

Improvements at Poly and
New School on Roosevelt
Site Contemplated

Citizens of Santa Ana will go to the polls March 4 to decide whether improvements and additions, totalling $250,000, will be made to several of the city's public school properties.

Definite steps in this connection were taken at 4:30 o'clock here this afternoon when members of the board of education were formally to pass resolutions and sign legal notices, prepared by Clyde Bishop, the board's attorney, calling for the election.

The board had previously reached an agreement as to the amount of the bond issue and the exact date for the proposals to be acted on by the people. This afternoon's meeting was to bring about the formal launching of the campaign for funds which board members declare are essential for future advancement of the city's schools.

Two proposals will be voted on by the people, one a bond issue for $100,000, which if approved will be used for additions and improvements at the Santa Ana high school.

The other is a proposal for $150,000 which would be devoted to the construction of a new building on the present site of the Roosevelt school on East First street; for improvements and additions to the Jefferson and Lincoln schools, and for the purchase of property in the southern section of the city for educational extension in the future.

On Separate Ballots
These propositions will be put before the people on separate ballots because two school districts are involved. The $150,000 issue comes under the head of the elementary school district and persons who reside outside the Santa Ana school sector will not vote. Those who are included in the Santa Ana high school district will decide the $100,000 issue.

The new building proposed for the Roosevelt school site will cost between $80,000 and $90,000, according to estimates of the board. Additions to the Lincoln and Jefferson schools will cost approximately $23,000.

In keeping with a new California state law, polls at the election will remain open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

$100 Fine Off As Man to Shun City

"He's been a regular customer," grieved W. F. Heathman, city recorder, "but I don't think Santa Ana will get to see Clyde Wilcox again for a long time."

Wilcox who has been arrested repeatedly on charges of drunkenness, was fined $100, but the judge withheld the commitment on condition that the "regular customer" remain away from the city for at least three months.

TROOPS' MARCH INTO COUNTY DEPICTED

Details of the settlement of Westminster and interesting data concerning its progress during the early '70s were given the Orange County Historical society last night by Mrs. R. W. Jones of El Modena, whose father, W. G. McPherson, was an early settler at Westminster and a pioneer school teacher. The meeting was held at the Santa Ana public library.

At the meeting, too, portions of a manuscript dictated by Don Juan Forster, settler at San Juan Capistrano in the early '40s, were read by T. E. Stephenson of Santa Ana. The manuscript was dictated, in 1878, to a representative of the historian, Bancroft, at the time that Bancroft was gathering material for his history of California.

Mrs. Jones read extracts from "The Annals of Westminster." These annals were reports written year by year for the annual gatherings of the Westminster colonists. In them was recorded the arrival of colonists, the drilling of artesian wells, and scores of other items denoting the conditions and events of interest. These extracts were

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. — Only a clergyman's wife knows how eagerly certain people wait to pounce upon the reputation of a minister of the gospel.

She knows from whence blows the hot breath of scandal, leaving behind the charred remains of a good name.

She knows the "church buzzards" who wait for every scrap of gossip. And how she must be constantly guarding her husband against those forces, is a most interesting sidelight to the ugly charges and intimations surrounding the Rev. Carl D. Case, of the fashionable Oak Park Baptist church.

Dr. Case has been named co-respondent in a divorce action filed by Albert H. Leland against Charlotte Leland. Mrs. Leland has signed a certain "confession" of alleged affectionate relations.

That is one story. But Mrs. Case's statement of how just such situations are combated is another. "My husband would not visit a woman on a parish call—particularly at night—without taking me along. There are many foolish and impressionable women in the world."

"Also my husband would not receive a woman in his study unless the door was left open. There are so many who jump at conclusions."

And now that the hint of scandal has come upon Dr. Case in spite of protective barriers, it is to the mental scientist that Dr. Case goes for his defense. Mrs. Leland is branded a neurotic, given to self-delusion. And such will be the evidence the defense will present in court.

The entire charge, according to the defense theory, is based upon imagination. In the days of the early church the woman would have been classed as possessed of a perverse spirit.

REPAVING WAR CHAMBERS DUE LULL STILL IS MAINTAINED TO AIR COUNTY PLANS TOPIC

Concrete Pouring on East Fourth, In Front of Two Lots, Due This Week

According to his announcement, Steele Finley, paving contractor, was completing plans today for pouring concrete sometime this week for the repaving work, in front of two lots on East Fourth street. One of the pieces of property, 902 East Fourth street, is owned by Frank Thompson. J. W. Compton, Long Beach, is the owner of the other lot, which lies almost directly across the street from the Thompson lot.

He had already entered on the street for the purpose of carrying out the contract awarded to him by the council recently, Finley said, adding that he had not been notified of injunction proceedings had been started by Thompson.

Court Move Hinted
It was intimated recently by the latter that he might take such a course, should the city attempt to force the work.

Repaving of the two pieces has been in controversy ever since repaving of East Fourth street some four years ago. At that time Thompson and Compton, alone refused to sign a private contract for the work. Consequently the improvement work was not put under street proceedings.

Thompson has maintained that the city council at the time of the original paving of the street entered into an agreement with property owners to maintain the paving in the future. A search of minutes of the council of that time failed to reveal such an agreement.

He has steadfastly refused to have the work done according to the wishes of the council.

At one time, Thompson started to repave, using a formula of his own. The work was halted by the city, because, it was asserted, his formula was not according to specifications adopted by the city for such work.

The city council has engaged in many "talkfests" on the subject of repaving. Recently definite action was taken by creation of an assessment district to pay for the improvement. The district embraces only the two lots.

U. C. Girls Enroll For Training in Range Shooting

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—More than 200 women of the University of California have enrolled this semester in the Women's Rifle club and practice firing has started on the campus.

"It is possible for a girl to shoot accurately and as well as a man, if not better," reports Lieutenant E. B. Manning of the department of military science of the university, who is instructing the feminine marksmen. "The rifle club was formed at the end of the fall semester and during the few weeks many expert riflemen were discovered. I find them very apt pupils."

Miss Rita Benedict is president of the club and an eligibility examination is necessary before any one can become a member. Lieutenant Manning is conducting the tests this week. Two hours each week will be given to practice by each member of the club. Manning will give instruction in shooting from the prone, standing and sitting positions. Smocks reaching to the ankles have been decided upon for the club uniform.

Fifteen points for marksmen, 35 for sharpshooters and 50 for degree of expert riflemen will be given by the Women's Athletic association of the university at the end of the semester.

Interclub contests and meets with the Men's Rifle club are scheduled for later in the semester.

Secretary of L. A. Body to Tell of Work Achieved At Fullerton Meet

With county regional planning scheduled as one of the big topics for discussion, one hundred or more residents of Orange county today were prepared to be present tomorrow evening at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, at the McFarland cafe at Fullerton, according to George Bayner, secretary of the county board body.

Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the Los Angeles county planning commission, will lead in the discussion. He will bring to the body his viewpoint of the benefits of county-wide planning and will present his observations resulting from work that is being done in the adjoining county.

It is expected, also, that Howard E. Gates, chairman of the chamber committee appointed to outline plans for an Orange county commission, will have a report to make. Gates has been giving the proposition considerable investigation, it is said.

Other matters of county-wide interest are expected to develop at the meeting for general discussion. Bayner said it is possible the suggested direct paved highway from Fullerton to Costa Mesa, to connect with the Newport Beach boulevard to the harbor, would be a vehicle of discussion, with some action in prospect.

Go to Long Beach Via Seventeenth Street, Is Advice

Autoists driving from Santa Ana to Long Beach and vicinity are advised to travel on Seventeenth street to Garden Grove while West Fifth street is being paved. This is a much better route than the muddy Eighth street detour pointed out by the signs where Fifth street is barricaded, according to W. G. Knox, city engineer.

Hotel Capitola Plans Remodeling

CAPITOLA-BY-THE-SEA, Jan. 29.—Plans for the immediate expenditure of $25,000 on improvements and remodeling are being made by E. V. Woodhouse, who recently purchased the Hotel Capitola from H. Allen Rispin, head of the Bay Head Land company. The remodeling program was a part of the sale conditions under which Woodhouse, who has operated the hotel for many years, purchased the building for approximately $100,000.

A large number of private baths, a big sun porch and a palm garden are among the changes that will be made in the hotel, according to Woodhouse.

It is the idea of the Capitola company to endeavor to make this city an all-year-round resort, on the order of Santa Cruz. The erection of a hot salt-water plunge and big real estate transactions are among the negotiations now pending for the carrying out of the elaboration scheme.

GIVE RECEPTION FOR NEW GIRLS AT POLY

Junior high school girls who will enter the high school next Monday were being introduced to the traditions and life of the high school this afternoon, at a reception in the Y. W. C. A. hut, given them by the Girls' league.

Hundreds of high school girls and teachers were at the reception to meet the new girls and to welcome them to the high school.

Miss Virginia Thatcher, retiring president of the Girls' league, has made all plans for the afternoon, and was to introduce Principal D. K. Hammond. He, in turn, was to outline some of the important phases of school life for girls.

Miss Isabel Anderson, girls' advisor, was to tell of the employment service recently inaugurated, as a rest room for high school girls and as a center for Y. W. C. A. activities.

The new president of the Girls' league, Miss Ethel Smallwood, was to tell the new girls of the work of the league, of the swimming club recently organized, and of the social service work of the league.

Decorations were arranged by Miss Helene Bowers and refreshments by Miss Alice Miller.

Miss Thatcher and Miss Smallwood were assisted in receiving by the old and new league cabinets, Miss Constance Crookshank, last year's president, and Miss Anderson.

After the reception the new girls were taken on a tour of the high school plant.

CITIES MOVE TO PROBE DEMAND FOR FURTHER JOINT SEWER WORK PAY

Four Councils Air Dispute Over Asserted Added Cost of Outfall

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Engineer Counters Claim of Contractors In Row Based on Work

Claims of DeWard and Cobham, contractors on the ocean end of the joint outfall sewer, for added compensation for asserted extra work in connection with the construction work, today had been referred to a committee appointed at a joint meeting here last night of the council of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton.

The committee, consisting of C. H. Chapman, Santa Ana; Oscar Guenther, Orange; Frank N. Gibbs, Anaheim; and R. N. Marsden, Fullerton, is scheduled to meet with the contractors, at the scene of the work, Friday at 10 a. m.

C. H. DeWard presented to the joint council meeting points upon which the firm claims it should be allowed extra compensation. The contractors already had expended an amount 100 per cent greater than it had been paid so far on its contract, DeWard asserted, adding that authorized changes in the original specifications had imposed extra work and extra costs.

Denies Cost Greater
In answering statement made by the contractor, W. G. Knox, city engineer of Santa Ana, and in direct charge of the building program, denied that the changes had added to the cost and asserted they were made to overcome difficulties that had developed in the building. He said the alterations were to the advantage rather than to the disadvantage of the contractors.

Substitution of cradles for gravel for the bed of the pipe, and iron straps, for wooden binders were some of the changes. According to Knox, in agreeing on the change to straps it was specified that the iron straps should be three inches wide and three-quarters of an inch thick. Straps received on the job in the first consignment were only half an inch thick, and Knox rejected them.

Asks Reimbursement
Claiming that these straps were ordered after Knox had approved a drawing in which thickness of one-half inch was specified, the contractors asked reimbursement for the cost of the rejected bands, approximately $800. Reimbursement for $500 expended in securing a right of way through the property of the Pacific Electric company, also was included. It was asserted that the city not only had a decree of court for permit to go through the railroad company's property with the sewer line, but also had written permission from the company.

Declaring that many conditions in the work had arisen that were not anticipated when the contract was awarded, and declaring that certain parts of the work was made better than the specifications called for, DeWard made a plea for fair consideration and a just compensation for the work that had been done.

Work Praised
Knox said there was no question that the work so far completed by the contractors was excellent. "Approximately 300 feet of cast iron pipe is yet to be laid into the ocean to complete the contract and the entire joint outfall sewer plant. A further extension of time for completion of the job will be necessary and the engineer recommended that an extension be granted."

As the city council of Santa Ana has full authority in the matter, the extension probably will be granted at the next meeting of the local board.

Contrary to all expectations, the councils of the four cities did not discuss the subject of joint action with reference to development of a future water supply for the municipalities. No date was set for a subsequent meeting in connection with this matter.

Milk's Better Than Cosmetics, Farmer Contends

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 29.—American women would grow beautiful faster if they would buy dairy products instead of spending their money on cosmetics, delegates attending the annual convention of the Farmers' Equity union were told by Ole Hanson of Orleans, Neb.

Declaring that the "ladies use rouge costing them $750,000 a year," Hanson, manager of the Co-operative creamery, added that the dairy cow is nature's own beauty parlor and that if women would use the money to "buy dairy products and put them in their faces" they would soon become beautiful on the outside.

Hanson urged dairymen to advertise as extensively as cosmetic manufacturers.

Crematory Casket Found in Hills

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Following investigation of the finding of a hermetically sealed brass box containing the ashes of Emily Crane in the East Oakland hills, officials of Mount Olivet cemetery identified the container as one taken from the cemetery some time ago. The box was discovered near Chabot Observatory January 13 by D. M. Hortsman, 928 Myrtle street, Oakland, but was not turned over to the police. An inscription on the box said that the remains of Emily Crane had been cremated at Mount Olivet in 1920. The superintendent of Mount Olivet stated that the container had been taken from the cemetery, but that the ashes had not been scattered, as is the usual custom.

Whips Used to Pep Up Extras In Africa Film

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Montagu Love, husky American screen idol, has returned to Paris from Africa with interesting tales about making films in the desert.

"The Sahara produces the cheapest extras in the world," the star said. "In Touggart we bought up an entire town, including the chief and all the officials, for 1000 francs. Hard-boiled overseers with black-snake whips prevented the extras from loafing during the mob scenes."

RIGA, Jan. 29.—At the trial of Serge Essenine, the Bolshevik poet and husband of Isadora Duncan, before the "Comrades' court," he may be accused of conduct unbecoming a Communist. He may be expelled.

"Abroad, while enjoying the hospitality of bourgeois countries," says the Moscow Pravda, "Comrade Essenine, when he transgressed the bounds of decency, was merely thrown out of restaurants and private houses. His conduct is a disgrace to all Communists, and the degenerate revels staged by him and his poet friends are a disgrace to Moscow. Essenine must be disciplined."

JAZZ POSSESSES BEAUTY; TO STAY, TEACHERS TOLD

"Jazz is here and it is here to stay."

"There is an element of beauty in jazz. You can find in it what you want to find, as you can find in everything what you are looking for. I like good jazz. I will make the best of it; I will get the best there is in it."

Santa Ana teachers were today discussing these statements, made at a City Teachers' league dinner at St. Ann's Inn last night, by Frank Moore Allen, literary editor of the Illinois State Journal, and a lecturer of national note.

The remarks on jazz were made in a lecture on "Living Your Poetry."

"What we need today is not more artists, but more appreciators of art," Allen stated. He deplored the tendency of persons not to endeavor to appreciate art, poetry and music.

Sees Too Much Bluffing.
"Real artists do not have to be coddled. There are too many mediocre artists and too few real appreciators," Allen continued.

"The mistake in schools and elsewhere in the country, is that we emphasize intellect and submerge beauty."

"I do not deprecate intellect, but I will not acknowledge it king."

"There is too much bluffing of appreciation and not enough of the real thing," the noted writer and lecturer declared, in urging teachers not to kill poetry for their students by dissecting it.

"Art appreciation is not an intellectual experience, but it is an emotional experience in the presence of beauty. There is an unwarranted emphasis being placed upon information in these days, and not enough on the pure joy and song of the arts."

With an allusion to "Main Street" and "Babbitt," Allen stated that Sinclair Lewis and other men who were writing modern novels were serving the purpose of the reformer; they were teaching lessons, not serving or intending to serve the beautiful, he declared.

Cites "Cash Values."
"I have seen more Main Street on Broadway in New York, than in the smallest Minnesota town," Allen said as he cited "two terrible mistakes" the American people were making "in trying to standardize everything, and to measure all things by a cash value."

"You can not measure your art or your poetry by a money standard," he continued. "You must live your art. You cannot put it into words. You must feel it. Happiness and beauty of soul will exist just in proportion to the ability to appreciate beauty."

J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, presided and introduced Miss Ruth Violet, music instructor at the Frances E. Willard junior high school, who gave a piano solo; Miss Edith Cornell of the Julia Lathrop junior high school faculty, whose vocal solo was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano and Mrs. Lena Moon Morgan of the high school faculty, who played a violin solo and was accompanied by Miss Margaret Wickes, also of the high school teaching staff.

State's Climate Most Varied of Any, Say Records

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—California, according to the records of the United States weather bureau here, has a more varied climate than any state in the Union.

The highest temperature ever recorded was registered by a thermometer in California. In the High Sierras, in Alpine county, the heaviest snowfall ever measured in the United States occurred in the winter of 1906-1907.

Death Valley, Cal., has the distinction of going over the top with the thermometer, the mercury rises to 134 degrees in the shade, July 10, 1913. How hot it was in the sun was not recorded, because down in Death Valley they don't hang the thermometers in the sun.

That cold winter of 1906 in Alpine county, 73 feet of snow descended upon any section of the United States. This is where Death Valley lies 173 feet below sea level with an annual precipitation of 1.76 inches. In San Bernardino county the sun works more constantly than in any other part of the United States, according to official record.

Point Reyes on the coast above San Francisco enjoys the coolest summers of any place in the United States, with a mean temperature of 54 degrees. It is also one of the windiest sea level places in the United States.

Bodie, in Mono county, claims the coldest record, the mercury dropping to 36 degrees below zero about twenty years ago.

Policemen Object To Examination

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Strong resentment against the questions in the recent civil service examination for police lieutenants in Oakland was admitted by eight of the competing candidates, including police inspectors and sergeants, who asserted that the questions so concerned traffic, booze and narcotics that they favored the two experts in such lines—Sergeants E. W. Brock and Charles Hemphill.

The examination was held to create two new police lieutenants to head the police traffic bureau and the police special service squad now headed by Sergeants Brock and Hemphill.

Hearing of the undercurrent of resentment against the questions, James T. Drew, Chief of Police, conferred with C. C. DeWolf, secretary of the Oakland Civil Service Board. Following the conference, Chief Drew announced that he was "fully satisfied with the fairness of the questions."

Crew of British Freighter Saved

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—A crew of fifty men were rescued

from the sinking British freighter Mary Horlock by the Pacific Mail liner President Taft, at a point 700 miles off the coast of Japan, according to radio advices received by the local offices of the Radio Corporation of America, and the Federal Telegraph company. The radio stated that the cargo of lumber aboard the freighter shifted and caused the vessel to list so badly that the water entered the engine room. The Mary Horlock is commanded by Captain Hill, and sailed from Tacoma December 21. The freighter was built in 1919 in a British shipyard by the Oceanic Transport, Ltd., and is of 4932 net tonnage. She is 400 feet long.

Berkeley Chief Not Apologetic

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Refusing to become excited over the charges of Patron Saint George Eldredge against the Police Department of Berkeley, City Manager John N. Edy promised a full statement of his intentions. Eldredge resigned from the police department after filing charges against fellow members of the department and against the police system in general.

Acting Police Chief C. D. Lee declared that he saw no reason for making apologies in defense of the police department. Lee characterized Eldredge's charges as "mere ravings of a disgruntled employee."

VAST ORGY OF CRIME BARED BY YOUTHS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—Four star players of the Sacramento high school football team confessed today to perpetrating thirteen local burglaries and the theft of four automobiles, and crimes extending over a period of four months and their loot totaling several thousand dollars.

The youthful robbers are Robert Zarrick, 17; Cecil Norris, 18; Ed Clements, 18, and Curtis Ripley, 18. They were arrested by Detectives Andy Noon, Al Babayco and Frank McAllister while attempting to rob the drug store of Rodda Brothers at Eighteenth and M streets.

Zarrack and Ripley were the first to confess and they implicated Clements and Norris. Later Clements and Norris were grilled by the police, and they also confessed three more burglaries to the list given the officers by Zarrack and Ripley.

Part of the loot obtained by the youths in their burglaries, two of which were attempts to crack safes of local stores, was found by the police, hidden at Zarrack's home. Much of the loot was sold by them, the youths told the officers.

In their confession they declared they were on their way to rob a house at Nineteenth and X streets, where they expected to secure a quantity of wine, when they passed the Rodda drug store and decided to loot it.

The youths made a specialty of entering homes and stores where they thought liquor could be obtained. Hundreds of gallons of wine and large quantities of whiskey were obtained by the quartet, the youths declared in their confession.

Their crimes included the burglary of lockers and the cafeteria at the Sacramento high school, and the theft of clothing, money and jewelry from the members of the Lodi high school football team when it played the local school here last December.

Zarrack, Norris and Clements were among a group of players dismissed from the high school football team last November for insubordination and breaking training rules. The boys were stars of the team, and Norris and Clements were veterans of the 1923 eleven.

Deputy Sheriff, After Prisoner, Gets Auto 'Tag'

The automobile of E. A. Poe—no, not the immortal Edgar Allan Poe, but a deputy sheriff who hails from Los Angeles—was tagged by Officer Lentz for parking in the restricted district and for having no registration certificate.

A famous name and the title of deputy sheriff will not excuse Poe for his little misdemeanor, according to City Marshal Claude Rogers, so the Los Angeles officer will have to pay a visit to the city hall and explain matters Thursday. At that time he will return, via Santa Ana, from San Diego with a prisoner for whom he was sent.

Suspect Arrested On Serious Charge

Tom Robus, wanted in this country on a statutory charge, was held in custody today at Imperial, according to word received here by Sheriff Sam Jernigan. Sheriff Jernigan expects to leave today or tomorrow to bring the prisoner here.

Robus is accused of committing an offense against a 15-year-old girl at Westminster.

An Important Public Announcement

A competitor, knowing of the remarkable distribution of PECO— the Master Spread for Bread—has stopped the sale of PECO by securing a temporary court injunction effective February 16th restraining us from using the name of PECO.

The people will not be denied PECO quality. It is the finest, purest and highest-grade product of its kind on the market today.

The creator of PECO regrets the inconvenience to the public and itself in this temporary situation.

This case is being carried to a higher court. In the meantime, however, PECO will have a new but temporary name, pending final court settlement. Therefore, PECO will be known as

WILSO

New cartons are now being made and, within a few days, the name WILSO will appear instead of PECO. Otherwise the cartons will be exactly the same in color and design. We direct attention to the fact that this is a change in name only. The same high quality will prevail. There will be nothing better. The name Wilson is your protection now as it has been in the past.

Our Guarantee

Wilson & Co., Inc., GUARANTEE that WILSO will be exactly the same as PECO. Positively no change will be made in the product. The Court injunction affects the name only—not the quality. Only the purest and most wholesome ingredients are used in the manufacture. It contains no animal fats.

We ask housewives to remember this change in name. When you want PECO, you will get it, but under the name WILSO. Do not be confused. Do not allow anyone to force some other brand upon you because they have been temporarily successful in securing an injunction prohibiting our use of our own name PECO.

WILSO is PECO

There is nothing added—nothing taken away. WILSO, like PECO, is a Creation in Goodness—the favorite among thousands of thrifty housewives everywhere. Look for the Wilson Label.

MARCH 4 DATE SELECTED FOR SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

Board to Meet Late Today
and Take Formal Steps
Looking to Vote

$250,000 PROPOSALS

Improvements at Poly and
New School on Roosevelt
Site Contemplated

Citizens of Santa Ana will go to the polls March 4 to decide whether improvements and additions, totalling $250,000, will be made to several of the city's public school properties.

Definite steps in this connection were to be taken at 4:30 o'clock here this afternoon when members of the board of education were formally to pass resolutions and sign legal notices, prepared by Clyde Bishop, the board's attorney, calling for the election.

The board had previously reached an agreement as to the amount of the bond issue and the exact date for the proposals to be acted on by the people. This afternoon's meeting was to bring about the formal launching of the campaign for funds which board members declare are essential for future advancement of the city's schools.

Two Proposals Up

Two proposals will be voted on by the people, one a bond issue for $100,000, which if approved will be used for additions and improvements at the Santa Ana high school.

The other is a proposal for $150,000 which would be devoted to the construction of a new building on the present site of the Roosevelt school on East First street; for improvements and additions to the Jefferson and Lincoln schools, and for the purchase of property in the southern section of the city for educational extension in the future.

On Separate Ballots

These propositions will be put before the people on separate ballots because two school districts are involved. The $150,000 issue comes under the head of the elementary school district and persons who reside outside the Santa Ana school sector will not vote. Those who are included in the Santa Ana high school district will decide the $100,000 issue.

The new building proposed for the Roosevelt school site will cost between $80,000 and $90,000, according to estimates of the board. Additions to the Lincoln and Jefferson schools will cost approximately $32,000.

In keeping with a new California state law, polls at the election will remain open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

$100 Fine Off As Man to Shun City

"He's been a regular customer," grieved W. F. Heathman, city recorder, "but I don't think Santa Ana will get to see Clyde Wilcox again for a long time."

Wilcox who has been arrested repeatedly on charges of drunkenness, was fined $100, but the judge withheld the commitment on condition that the "regular customer" remain away from the city for at least three months.

TROOPS' MARCH INTO COUNTY DEPICTED

Details of the settlement of Westminster and interesting data concerning its progress during the early '70's were given the Orange County Historical society last night by Mrs. R. W. Jones of El Modena, whose father, W. G. McPherson, was an early settler at Westminster and a pioneer school teacher. The meeting was held at the Santa Ana public library.

At the meeting, too, portions of a manuscript dictated by Don Juan Forster, settler at San Juan Capistrano in the early '40's, were read by T. E. Stephenson of Santa Ana. The manuscript was dictated, in 1878, to a representative of the historian, Bancroft, at the time that Bancroft was gathering material for his history of California.

Mrs. Jones read extracts from "The Annals of Westminster." These annals were reports written year by year for the annual gatherings of the Westminster colonists. In them was recorded the arrival of colonists, the drilling of artesian wells, and scores of other items denoting the conditions and events of interest. These extracts were

Concrete Pouring on East
Fourth, In Front of Two
Lots, Due This Week

According to his announcement, Steele Finley, paving contractor, was completing plans today for pouring concrete sometime this week for the repaving work, in front of two lots on East Fourth street. One of the pieces of property, 902 East Fourth street, is owned by Frank Thompson, J. W. Compton, Long Beach, is the owner of the other lot, which lies almost directly across the street from the Thompson lot.

He had already entered on the street for the purpose of carrying out the contract awarded to him by the council recently. Finley said, adding that he had not been notified of injunction proceedings had been started by Thompson.

Chart Move Hinted

It was intimated recently by the latter that he might take such a course, should the city attempt to force the work.

Repaving of the two pieces has been in controversy ever since repaving of East Fourth street some four years ago. At that time Thompson and Compton, alone refused to sign a private contract for the work. Consequently the improvement work was not put under street proceedings.

Thompson has maintained that the city council at the time of the original paving of the street entered into an agreement with property owners to maintain the paving in the future. A search of minutes of the council of that time failed to reveal such an agreement.

He has steadfastly refused to have the work done according to the wishes of the council.

At one time, Thompson started to repave a section of the street on his own. The work was halted by the city, because, it was asserted, his formula was not according to specifications adopted by the city for such work.

The city council has engaged in many "talkfests" on the subject of repaving. Recently definite action was taken by creation of an assessment district to pay for the improvement. The district embraces only the two lots.

U. C. Girls Enroll For Training in Range Shooting

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—More than 200 women of the United States have enrolled this semester in the Women's Rifle club and practice firing has started on the campus.

"It is possible for a girl to shoot accurately and as well as a man, if not better," reports Lieutenant F. B. Manning of the department of military science of the university, who is instructing the feminine marksmen. "The rifle club was formed at the end of the fall semester and during the few weeks many expert riflemen were discovered. I find them very apt pupils."

Miss Rita Benedict is president of the club and an eligibility examination is necessary before anyone can become a member. Lieutenant Manning is conducting the tests this week. Two hours each week will be given to practice by each member of the club. Manning will give instruction in shooting from the prone, standing and sitting positions. Snocks reaching to the ankles have been decided upon for the club uniform.

Fifteen points for marksmen, 35 for sharpshooters and 50 for degree of expert riflemen will be given by the Women's Athletic association of the university at the end of the semester.

Interclub contests and meets with the Men's Rifle club are scheduled for later in the semester.

Secretary of L. A. Body to Tell of Work Achieved
At Fullerton Meet

With county regional planning scheduled as one of the big topics for discussion, one hundred or more residents of Orange county today were prepared to be present tomorrow evening at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, at the McFarland cafe at Fullerton, according to George Raymer, secretary of the county boost body.

Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the Los Angeles county planning commission, will lead in the discussion. He will bring to the body his viewpoint of the benefits of county-wide planning and will present his observations resulting from work that is being done in the adjoining county.

It is expected, also, that Howard E. Gates, chairman of the chamber committee appointed to outline plans for an Orange county commission, will have a report to make. Gates has been giving the proposition considerable investigation, it is said.

Other matters of county-wide interest are expected to develop at the meeting for general discussion. Raymer said it is possible the suggested direct paved highway from Fullerton to Costa Mesa, to connect with the Newport Beach boulevard to the harbor, would be a vehicle of discussion, with some action in prospect.

Go to Long Beach Via Seventeenth Street, Is Advice

Autoists driving from Santa Ana to Long Beach and vicinity are advised to travel on Seventeenth street to Garden Grove where West Fifth street is being paved. This is a much better route than the muddy Eighth street detour pointed out by the signs, where Fifth street is barricaded, according to W. G. Knox, city engineer.

Hotel Capitola Plans Remodeling

CAPITOLA-BY-THE-SEA, Jan. 29.—Plans for the immediate expenditure of $25,000 on improvements and remodeling are being made by E. V. Woodhouse, who recently purchased the Hotel Capitola from H. Allen Rispih, head of the Bay Head Land company. The remodeling program was a part of the sale conditions under which Woodhouse, who has operated the hotel for many years, purchased the building for approximately $100,000.

A large number of private baths, a big sun porch and a palm garden are among the changes that will be made in the hotel, according to Woodhouse.

It is the idea of the Capitola company to endeavor to make this city an all-year-round resort, on the order of Santa Cruz. The erection of a hot salt-water plunge and big real estate transactions are among the negotiations now pending for the carrying out of the elaboration scheme.

GIVE RECEPTION FOR NEW GIRLS AT POLY

Junior high school girls who will enter the high school next Monday were being introduced to the traditions and life of the high school this afternoon, at a reception in the Y. W. C. A. hut, given them by the Girls' league.

Hundreds of high school girls and teachers were at the reception to meet the new girls and to welcome them to the high school.

Miss Virginia Thatcher, retiring president of the Girls' league, has made all plans for the afternoon, and was to introduce Principal D. K. Hammond. He, in turn, was to outline some of the important phases of school life for girls.

Miss Isabel Anderson, girls' advisor, was to tell of the employment service recently inaugurated, as a rest room for high school girls and as a center for Y. W. C. A. activities.

The new president of the Girls' league, Miss Ethel Smallwood, was to tell the new girls of the work of the league, of the swimming club recently organized, and of the social service work of the league.

Decorations were arranged by Miss Helend Bowers and refreshments by Miss Alice Miller.

Miss Thatcher and Miss Smallwood were assisted in receiving by the old and new league cabinets, Miss Constance Crookshank, last year's president, and Miss Anderson.

After the reception the new girls were taken on a tour of the high school plant.

CITIES MOVE TO PROBE DEMAND FOR FURTHER JOINT SEWER WORK PAY

Four Councils Air Dispute
Over Asserted Added
Cost of Outfall

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Engineer Counters Claim of Contractors In Row
Based on Work

Claims of DeWard and Cobham, contractors on the ocean end of the joint outfall sewer, for added compensation for asserted extra work in connection with the construction work, today had been referred to a committee appointed at a joint meeting here last night of the council of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton.

The committee, consisting of C. H. Chapman, Santa Ana; Oscar Guenther, Orange; Frank N. Gibbs, Anaheim; and R. N. Marsden, Fullerton, is scheduled to meet with the contractors, at the scene of the work, Friday at 10 a. m.

C. H. DeWard presented to the joint council meeting points upon which the firm claims it should be allowed extra compensation. The contractors already had expended an amount 100 per cent greater than it had been paid so far on its contract, DeWard asserted, adding that authorized changes in the original specifications had imposed extra work and extra costs.

Denies Cost Greater

In answering statement made by the contractor, W. G. Knox, city engineer of Santa Ana, and in direct charge of the building program, denied that the changes had added to the cost and asserted they were made to overcome difficulties that had developed in the building. He said the alterations were the advantage rather than to the disadvantage of the contractors.

Substitution of cradles for gravel for the bed of the pipe, and iron straps, for wooden binders were some of the changes. According to Knox, in agreeing on the change to straps, it was specified that the iron straps should be three inches wide and three-quarters of an inch thick. Straps received on the job in the first consignment were only half an inch thick, and Knox rejected them.

Asks Reimbursement

Claiming that these straps were ordered after Knox had approved a drawing in which thickness of one-half inch was specified, the contractors asked reimbursement for the cost of the rejected bands, approximately $400. Reimbursement for $500 expended in securing a right of way through the property of the Pacific Electric company, also was included. It was asserted that the city not only had a decree of court for permit to go through the railroad company's property with the sewer line, but also had written permission from the company.

Declaring that many conditions in the work had arisen, Knox was not anticipated when the contract was awarded, and declaring that certain parts of the work was made better than the specifications called for, DeWard made a plea for fair consideration and a just compensation for the work that had been done.

Work Praised

Knox said there was no question that the work so far completed by the contractors was excellent.

Approximately 300 feet of cast iron pipe is yet to be laid into the ocean to complete the contract and the entire joint outfall sewer plant. A further extension of time for completion of the job will be necessary and the engineer recommended that an extension be granted.

As the city council of Santa Ana has full authority in the matter, the extension probably will be granted at the next meeting of the local board.

Contrary to all expectations, the councils of the four cities did not discuss the subject of joint action with reference to development of a future water supply for the municipalities. No date was set for a subsequent meeting in connection with this matter.

interspersed with reminiscences by Mrs. Jones.

No Defined Roads.

"There were no defined roads," said Mrs. Jones. "Roads just took off across country, and were interspersed by other roads or tracks. Many laughable stories are told about people who became lost out there. One man, I remember, was driving home from Anaheim, and while he insisted to his wife that he knew where he was, he thought it just as well that he stop at a house and make sure he was on the right road. Just as he drove up to make inquiry, the door opened and his own children ran out to meet him; it was his own house."

The story of how the wonderfully fertile soil was damaged by the rising of alkali was told. Not knowing that too much water spread on the land would bring alkali, the ranchers drilled scores of artesian wells, and in a few years land that had never had a sign of alkali began to show it. In more recent years drainage has been instituted to bring the land back to its old-time fertility.

Stephenson said he received a copy of the John Forster manuscript from the Bancroft library, University of California. Many of the stirring events that stand out in the history of California during the Mexican war period and during the late '30's were detailed by Forster.

Comes as Trader.

Forster, according to the manuscript, was born in England in 1814 and when a boy of 16 was sent by his father to an uncle, who was a trader at Guaymas. Forster's first trips to Upper California were in a trading vessel. About 1833 he became a permanent resident, and still later was captain of the port at San Pedro. He was married to a sister of Pio Pico, the last of the governors under Mexican rule, and of Gen. Andres Pico, who commanded the Californians in the battle of San Pasqual.

The interesting story of Governor Pico's escape from California to Mexico after his departure from Los Angeles, on receiving word that Commodore Sloat had raised the American flag at Monterey, is told. Pico was hidden on the Forster ranch.

Because Forster took possession of San Luis Rey mission and frustrated some plans that General Fremont had upon the place, which belonged to Governor Pico, General Fremont, Kit Carson, Godey and the entire Fremont party, including a band of Shawnee Indians, surrounded the San Juan Capistrano mission. Forster explained that he favored any movement which bred hallucinations, this theory contends.

Instead of mumbling an incantation, however, the pastor today is fighting in court to clear his name. His defense, although unusual, has ample support from psychopathic experts.

"We have such cases of systematized delusions every day," says Dr. William J. Hickson, superintendent of the psychopathic hospital.

"There was a notable instance here a few years ago, which sealed the life of a man who had a wife and grown children and had won the title of 'general.'"

"In another case several years ago, a man was bringing suits against the governor, the attorney general and several other high state officials. He believed implicitly in the charges he had made. But they were, nevertheless, purely imaginary."

Mrs. Leland's family, however, repudiates the hallucination theory without qualification.

"Charlotte is not crazy or mentally deranged," says her mother. "That fact is absolute. She is not crazy."

DUAL PERSONALITY BRINGS ON ARREST

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 29.—A story of dual personality was told by Mrs. Marguerite Stewart, beautiful California widow, after being arraigned in police court here yesterday, charged with passing bad checks.

Mrs. Stewart also known as Sarah A. Shepler, wanted in New Orleans and San Antonio, Texas, for passing worthless checks, said she was a sufferer from hyperthyroid glandular affections which made of her, at times a criminal, while at other times, she returned to her natural state, or to the "Marguerite," personality—beautiful, well poised, decorously groomed and vivacious.

The other personality which she called "Sarah" when it dominated her actions, led her into trouble in various ways, of which the bad check issuing was one.

Mrs. Stewart, who claims to be the mentee of a Los Angeles physician, will be returned to New Orleans to face the worthless check charges.

That would bring a stable government to California, and Fremont was appeased.

The service rendered by Forster, in guiding the Americans under Commodore Stockton through Orange county was outlined. It was through Forster that the Americans escaped ambuscade on the banks of the San Gabriel river.

REFUGEES' RUM CONSUMED BY POLICEMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—

Whisky, sent across the bay for the use of Berkeley fire refugees, was consumed by members of the Berkeley police department and policemen from outside departments.

Such was the gist of a report made to John N. Edy, city manager of Berkeley, by Acting Police Chief C. D. Lee and Police Captain Jack Greening. City Manager Edy made the report public. In light of the report, W. R. Paget, chief of prohibition field agents under Director Rutter, will request an explanation from City Manager Edy or his police officials.

While the whisky intended for the fire refugees was consumed by the policemen, the report states, no member of the Berkeley department became intoxicated, but "over the outside force, whose views on the question may be more liberal, we could not exercise the same supervision as with our own men."

Report Admits Error

In part the joint report made to City Manager Edy by Acting Police Chief Lee and Captain Greening follows:

"If we erred, it was an error of judgment and not of the heart, and an error, we believe, has not seriously detracted from the results attained."

"A one-ounce glass of whisky was dispensed to all (local and outside) police officers desiring it twice during their daily tour of duty—when they reported on and when they reported off; and during the night watch food and a glass of whisky were served by a sergeant of the local force to the men on their beats. The liquor dispensed was medicinal whisky secured through the proper channels."

Stimulant Employed

"We believe that where a large body of men are employed, in a strenuous undertaking which taxes their endurance to the utmost, it is not uncommon practice to give them small doses of stimulant, such as was done in the World war, as a safeguard against sickness and a relief from physical fatigue."

"During the period there was no intoxication among members of the local force, and none among members of the outside force while on duty."

Responsibility Assumed

"Under ordinary conditions such a practice would not have been countenanced nor thought of; our force has always been reputed a clean body of men, ready and willing to give their best to the public. But this was no ordinary situation. We assume full responsibility for the dispensing of liquor done regularly through our sergeants and for the conduct of our own men. Over the outside force, whose views on the question may be more

Hold Autoist On Accusation That He Failed to Aid

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—

Gerard S. De Vries, 1825 Sonoma street, Berkeley, was bound over to the Superior court by Judge Robert Edgar of Berkeley on a charge of failure to stop and render assistance after striking a pedestrian with his automobile. Bail was fixed at $5,000, which was furnished.

De Vries, who is a prominent exporter, is well known in the bay district and was in charge of the Netherlands art exhibit during the World's Fair in San Francisco.

According to the police, De Vries was driving at about forty-five miles per hour on San Pablo avenue the evening of January 19, when, at the corner of Channing Way and San Pablo avenue, he struck Roscoe H. Williams, 39, of 1123 Channing Way, Berkeley. Williams suffered fractures of both legs, wounds on the scalp and face and concussion of the brain. He is still in a serious condition at the Berkeley General hospital, according to testimony given at the preliminary hearing yesterday.

Three Rivers May Get Cement Plant

EXETER, Jan. 29.—Reports of information concerning tests of rock near here indicates unofficially that directors of the San Joaquin Valley Portland Cement company, headed by C. F. Hamburg and S. A. Parker of San Francisco, will construct a huge cement manufacturing plant north of Exeter and convert Blossom Peak, Three Rivers, into commercial products.

A year ago it was announced that this company had taken options on the entire mountain near Three Rivers, and was conducting tests to determine the value of the rock. It was also announced that land north of Exeter had been secured for a plant, which would be available to both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads. Reports state that the entire mountain is almost solidly composed of a very fine texture of cement rock, capable of supplying full capacity needs of the company for fifty years.

liberal, we could not exercise the same supervision as with our own men."

City Manager Edy refused to comment on the report, nor would Acting Chief Lee or Captain Greening. The report was made to Edy as an answer to the charges of Patrolman George Eldredge, who alleged that members of the Berkeley department had been guilty of "promiscuous booze drinking" and "jetting parties."

GIRL, 11, OPENS S. F. REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—A fundamentalist, evangelist and emotional revivalist believing herself led by the Lord yet a lover of "Run, Sheep Run," as well as prayer-such is the astonishing composite crammed into the small body and mind of Uldine Utley of Fresno. She is an 11-year-old "Billy Sunday" of California, who has now come to San Francisco to lead sinners to the cross.

She is a blue-eyed, golden haired, laughing youngster yet from her lips fall such phrases as: "I believe firmly in the doctrine of the immaculate conception—in the virgin birth."

"I'm a fundamentalist as opposed to the school of modernists—the latter don't accept every word of the Holy Writ, whereas the fundamentalist says each line of the Bible is literally true."

She burns with a strange intensity as she talks about her calling and her Lord.

"You see I was saved two years ago, and then one day I was reading my Bible and pondering. I asked the Lord what he wanted me to do and my eyes fell on the seventh verse of the tenth chapter of Matthew: 'And as ye go preach, saying the kingdom of heaven is at hand.'"

So Uldine has accepted this as her commission and will go wherever the Lord leads her.

"We follow Uldine wherever she goes," said her father and mother. "The word shall give what a strange power the Lord has given our child."

WILL SEEK PROFIT FROM U. S. SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—With unlimited backing from President Coolidge, former Admiral Leigh C. Palmer has taken up the task of trying to put the American merchant marine fleet on a secure, paying basis. Palmer became to all intents and purposes "dictator" regarding the merchant fleet.

The shipping board as contemplated by the merchant marine act of 1920, will become what President Coolidge has been anxious to make it—a supervisory body over both government and private shipping, operating much the same as does the interstate commerce commission.

President Coolidge still has to pick a chairman for the board to succeed E. P. Farley whose nomination was rejected by the senate

THIS BRIGHT BABY GIRL

Brought Joy to Home. Mrs. Price's Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scotac, Pa.—"I never felt like working, and when I would try to do any work standing on my feet, I would just drag around all day long. At times I would have terrible pains and would be in bed three or four days. I was in this condition about a year when I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers. I had heard different women say it was good for women's troubles, and my aunt thought it would help me as it had helped her. So I took the Vegetable Compound and it brought things right, and I was in good shape before I became a mother again. I believe it helps at birth, too, as with both my other babies I suffered a great deal more than with this one. I thank you a thousand times for the good your medicine has done me."

—Mrs. ROBERT PRICE, Scotac, via Lockhaven, Pa.

In a recent county-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no good feeling all out of sorts, no active bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then—just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

SEA BEACH TO ISSUE BONDS FOR SCHOOL

Plans Are Made For Voting $22,000 to Provide New Accommodations

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 29.—At a meeting of the school board plans for the issuing of school bonds to the amount of $22,000 will be furthered. It is deemed necessary to purchase additional school grounds and to have the money available at the close of the present term to begin at once the construction of more adequate accommodations.

Fines Amount to $700. The family moved to Tucson from Santa Ana four years ago, when Mr. Allen accepted appointment as superintendent of the school for deaf and dumb at Tucson.

Attention is called to the fact that the Anaheim bridge is closed to trucks and all heavy vehicles and the five-hour limit is imposed on all traffic. A guard is kept at the bridge to enforce warning signs posted at each end of the bridge and more than one driver has been forced to back his car off the bridge and read the sign before being allowed to proceed. It is the intention of the bridge repairers to assemble all necessary material before starting the work so that the bridge will be closed to traffic only a few days. Just why the work will begin is not yet determined.

The Alhineha Campfire girls of Garden Grove held a delightful picnic at Anaheim bay. It is the rule of the organization that on such trips only the Indian name chosen by each girl may be used and a fine is imposed for violations. The dinner was cooked in true Indian fashion by heating rocks and allowing each one a hot rock on which to fry bacon and eggs and toast bread.

Enrollment of members of the Chamber of Commerce passed the seventy mark Saturday. The business men are responding loyally as they consider the $12 dues money well spent. Two dollars is the amount of dues required for other members. Wednesday night, Jan. 30, is the date of the next meeting, which will be held at the Auditorium, Tenth and Central.

The first Community night moving picture program, provided through the efforts of the Methodist church, will be held Friday night at the Auditorium. It was the attention in the construction of this building to provide a community center available for all entertainments of benefit to the citizen. The audiences that assemble there prove the appreciation of the people of Seal Beach, and it is hoped these Friday night entertainments may be a decided success.

Mrs. C. B. Conner, who has been seriously ill for some time, is able to sit up a little while each day.

A family reunion was held at the home of Henry Gade Sunday, that being the last opportunity the family will have to gather in the old home. The property has been sold to Mr. Denney, vice president of the Seal Beach bank. Mr. Gade and daughter, Mrs. Edmunds, will move to Anaheim.

MELLON TAX PLAN GIVEN APPROVAL

FULLERTON, Jan. 29.—By adopting a set of resolutions endorsing the Mellon Tax Reduction plan and forwarding copies of the resolution to members of California's delegation in both houses of congress, the Fullerton chamber of commerce indicated that it favored any plan whereby taxes might be reduced. A letter accompanied the set of resolutions setting forth the opinion of the chamber as a body.

This letter indicated that while the chamber of commerce endorsed the Mellon Tax plan as a method of tax reduction that it did not stand pledged to support the measure as a body. The letter also intimated that some better plan might be found to reduce the tax burden.

Former Santa Ana Woman Is Buried

Friends in Santa Ana today were grieved to learn of the death at Tucson, Ariz., Thursday, of Mrs. Margaret Allen, a former resident of this city. She was 39 years old, and is survived by her widower, W. N. Allen, and three children: Helen, 22, Willard, 18, and Vera, 13, and her mother, Mrs. Josie Burmister, of Tucson.

Re-Survey of Port Is Now Under Way; Engineer Arrives

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 29.—Dropping quietly into town and going to work without any fuss or frills, Capt. D. E. Hughes, of the district United States engineer's office, Los Angeles, has been making the re-survey of Newport harbor ordered by the federal army engineers.

Capt. Hughes has been identified with harbor work on this coast for the last quarter of a century and has done considerable work of that nature on this port. He will remain for several weeks or until his survey is completed, while Major Ardery will run down occasionally to see how the survey is progressing.

EDUCATOR VISITS CAPISTRANO COUPLE

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schiewe, of Los Angeles, were guests at the Malcolm home Sunday.

Mr. Schiewe was a teacher in the Capistrano high school two years ago. Since leaving Capistrano he has been teaching in the University of California, Southern Branch.

Mr. Schiewe was married last month to Miss Mable Carow, an Arizona girl.

Jack Congdon is ill in the Community hospital with intestinal influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Deshler, Pearl, Christine, Roselle and Frank Deshler were guests at the Rosenbaum home Sunday.

The Capistrano basketball team won from the Tustin team, 18 to 16. Both teams played a good game.

The Tustin team did some pretty passing. Their teamwork was good, but they did not seem to have the fight that the Capistrano boys had.

Capistrano played against odds, too. Congdon, one of their best men, was out, and Carrillo played in his place, leaving Capistrano no substitutes. It was the first full game that Carrillo had ever played in and he did very good.

At the end of the first quarter Tustin was in the lead by one goal but by the end of the second quarter Capistrano had ten points and Tustin eight.

Although Capistrano was ahead in goals its team was in great danger of having to forfeit the game because three personal fouls had been called on Carrillo by the end of the first half, and if he made one more he would be put out and there would be no one to put in his place.

In the third quarter Tustin didn't do anything and Capistrano made five points, but in the last quarter Tustin lived up and made eight points while Capistrano only made four, making the score 18 to 16, in Capistrano's favor.

SCHOOL DISTRICT AT BEACH URGED

SUNSET BEACH, Jan. 29.—Residents of Sunset Beach have been asked for an expression of their opinion on the question of forming a school district here. W. H. McKenney and R. J. Prescott of the Huntington Beach school board spent some time in Sunset Beach last week canvassing the district and a report they will submit to their board soon will show a somewhat divided opinion on the question, it is believed.

It is thought that if a new district is formed here some difficulty will be experienced in providing the same advantages now enjoyed from the Huntington Beach district.

The officials from Huntington Beach assured local residents that a bus is to be provided to carry children direct to the school there.

MANAGER NOT NAMED FULLERTON, Jan. 29.—Members of the board of directors of the Placentia Orange Growers Association are unable today to reach a decision on the appointment of a manager for the Fullerton packing house of that organization. The committee of directors of the Association to select a manager announced through its chairman, S. T. McCulloch, no action will be taken for at least another week.

MORE MEMBERS FOR CHAMBER ARE SOUGHT

Tustin Business Men to Inject New Life Into Orangization

TUSTIN, Jan. 29.—With the goal set at 50 members the directors of the chamber of commerce of this city last night launched a one week campaign to set the chamber of commerce on its feet.

A special meeting has been called for next Monday night at the high school to hear reports of the progress made in the campaign and also in the campaign to raise money for the upkeep of the local fire department.

F. M. Gorder, L. A. Cook, and Rev. W. S. McDougall, were appointed on a committee to canvass the city for subscriptions for the upkeep of the fire department. The fire truck it was pointed out, is in need of new tires, the chemical tanks are in need of refilling and cleaning. The committee is to get to work immediately on the project and be ready to submit their report at the meeting this Monday night.

Howard Wassum and J. Winterbourne were appointed to attend the next meeting of the associated chambers of commerce at Fullerton Wednesday night. A report of the house numbering committee showed that progress has been held up on the work because the map of the town was as yet unfinished.

PARK DOCTOR IS SCHOOL SPEAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson and Raymond Nelson were visitors in Huntington Beach Sunday.

Mr. and John Johnson and Carl Sunquist attended the graduation exercises at the Fullerton hospital Friday night.

Mr. Finston and family of Anaheim have moved into the house on 9th street recently purchased from J. K. Doyle.

The J. R. Schofield family motored to Long Beach Saturday.

Mr. R. D. Bacon, James and Robert Bacon and Mr. T. J. Bacon were visitors in Anaheim Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allen spent Sunday in Anaheim.

Zoe and Rodney Jackson went to Long Beach Sunday.

The Earl Dow family visited at Garden Grove and Placentia Sunday.

Sam Little is expected home Thursday. Mrs. Little has been away one year visiting friends and relatives in Germany.

PLAN RELIEF DRIVE FULLERTON, Jan. 29.—Wednesday will be devoted to a one day intensive drive in this city for funds for the relief of starving German children it was announced today.

The city has been divided into districts and teams of two men assigned to each district. The entire drive is under the direction of T. Edgington, chairman of the German Relief Fund.

Pump Is Used to Remove Liquor From Stomach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 29.—P. S. Gilbert, 64, inbibed freely in a concoction he was told was the very best quality of Scotch. Several hours later he was found in a precarious condition. Doctors pronounced it due to poison liquor and only the quick use of a stomach pump saved the aged man's life, they declare. Gilbert now is held in jail until he recovers. He must answer a charge of intoxication.

OPENING DATE FOR CLUBHOUSE IS SET

LA HABRA, Jan. 29.—The formal opening of the La Habra women's clubhouse will be February 7. All women's clubs of Orange county are invited to send delegates as are also Whittier and East Whittier clubs. The La Habra people are invited. The opening will be both in the afternoon and evening. This occasion is for the public inspection of the new clubhouse. Punch and wafers will be served. Plans for dedication and opening made and will be announced later.

W. L. Rhodes is attending the bedside of his brother in Pasadena.

Mrs. U. R. Phillips entertained at her home Saturday evening with a 6:30 o'clock chicken dinner, the occasion being a joint birthday celebration in honor of her daughter, Ruth Rosalie, and Mrs. G. A. Heubert, who is an aunt of Mrs. Phillips. Each of the honorees received several nice gifts, among the gifts were two nice cakes bearing the number of candles to indicate their birthdays, which was twenty-five on the large cake and two candles on the small ones. Games were played. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James L. Bacon, John Upton and Roxanna Balcom, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Heubert and children, Deane and Theda, Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Phillips and baby, Rosalie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Roberts of Whittier were Sunday dinner guests at the parental home of L. E. Roberts on North Hiatt street.

Sunday dinner guests at the W. N. Noble home on Lemon street were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Chamberlain of Whittier, and Ira Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Holzgrath were over Sunday guests at the home of George W. Nimmo of near Laguna Beach.

Mrs. John Upton and Mrs. O. J. Youngren attended the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Miller of Whittier Monday afternoon. Mrs. Upton and Mrs. Miller were schoolmates in Arkansas a number of years ago.

Mrs. C. J. Stoutsenberger and sons moved to Redondo Monday where they will be near their work in the Torrance oil fields.

Mrs. James L. Balcom, Joe, Ruth and Roxanna Balcom, accompanied by Mrs. U. R. Phillips and baby, Ruth Rosalie, and Mrs. G. A. Heubert and children, Deane and Theda, were Huntington Beach and Seal Beach visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Jennie Maddock and nephew C. R. Hysel of the Sunshine Inn motored to Garden Grove and were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Davis.

GERMANY HAS NEW METHOD OF ATTACK

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 29.—Germany has perfected a radio wave that will disable airships in midair, said the motors of dirigibles and ball blimps electrically driven batteries, according to Captain John Otto of the German liner Alrich, in port here after a voyage from Bremen.

"German scientists have perfected the machine, which will throw an electric charge in any direction, with a direction variation of less than one-thirtieth of a degree, and which will disable any electric apparatus against which it is hurled," he said.

This is not the idle fancy of scientists, but is a proven machine, the German ship master asserted, having been tried time and time with success.

French and English airplanes flying over the German border have suddenly gone dead with no apparent reason, according to recent news dispatches.

It is believed the radio-directed wave from this German invention may have neutralized the ignition apparatus of the airplanes' engines.

HARBOR LEGION POST PRINTS NEWSPAPER

Newport Harbor Legionnaire Makes Appearance; List Charter Members

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 29.—The first issue of the Newport Harbor Legionnaire, a bright publication being published by the newly organized local post, is to hand. WAR ROMANCE WRECKED OVER PARIS LIFE

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—July 19, 1918, was a great day for Americans in France. On that day began the great Allied counter-offensive that ended the war. On that day the Germans began their retreat across the Marne. On that day 17,000 prisoners were captured by American troops. And on that day George Barger, 55 years of age, Detroit contractor, 2609 Nebraska avenue, then a lieutenant in the air service, captured the heart of Mile. Edith Roin, 18-year-old Parisienne.

The next three months were pretty tough for George. While 1,000,000 Americans in France were being given an opportunity to study first-hand the beautiful scenery of rural France along the Marne, Vesle, Meuse and other delightful French streams, George was confined to study Paris with nothing better than the muddy Seine to look at. It's true, he had Mile. Edith to share his boredom.

Sun Shines The romance began on a crowded train between Versailles and Paris when Mile. Edith found herself seated facing two American officers.

If the Americans' eyes rested longer than usual upon the French girl who had blushed? The sun, that had remained in hiding for weeks of rain and cloudy weather, finally broke through the mists and shone full and strong in the young lady's eyes.

Galantly rising, the older of the two officers, using the best French at his command, asked mademoiselle if she would not like to have the shade lowered.

English Spoken In perfect English mademoiselle replied that it was so good to have the sun shining again that she did not mind.

"That broke the ice," said Mile. Edith. "He was surprised that I could speak English so well, but you see I attended the Academy of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart from the time I was 5 years old until I was 13, and I also attended a finishing school for girls at Scarborough, England."

"Lieut. Barger was much older than I—he is 55 now, and I am 23—but you know for a French girl to be able to walk on the street in Paris with an American officer in his brilliant khaki uniform was heaven in those days. I encouraged his attentions and finally ran away from home to be with him, because my mother forbade me to see him again."

Couple Marry The war ended November 11 and George celebrated the occasion by marrying Mile. Edith a week later.

But being a wife is far different from being a sweetheart, Mile. Edith, now Mrs. Edith Barger, soon learned. According to the bill for divorce she filed yesterday in circuit court, George made her go to work to support herself and when she grew tired of it and suggested stopping he became abusive.

A year later, by her account, the Bargers, much against Mrs. Barger's wishes, came to the United States and, in the years that followed, Mrs. Barger grew very homesick. She wanted to see her mother, who lives in Paris. But her husband, she says, refused to pay the fare. So she went to New York, found work, saved money until July, 1923, and was about to make a hurried trip to Paris when she fell ill and returned to Detroit. Her husband became extremely cruel to her, she declares.

Custody Asked So she instituted proceedings, charging cruelty and asking for the custody of her 4-year-old daughter Ginette.

FRIDAY'S GAMES
San Diego at Santa Ana.
Fullerton at Pasadena.
Long Beach at Whittier.

Coach Edward Bonaparte Covington's Santa Ana high school hoop shooters play their first Tri-County league brawl of the season at home this week with the San Diego high school quintette furnishing the competition.
Covington was in communication with the Southerners today in an effort to definitely settle the time and place for the rumpus. San Diego wants the game for Saturday night at the Orange Athletic club's indoor court.
The faculty axe again has fallen on Gordon Middlebrook, veteran standing guard, and he probably lost to the Poly forces for the rest of the season.
Pasadena high school's crack basketballers swept into the undisputed lead in the championship race last Friday by defeating San Diego 23 to 10. Fullerton, previously romped on by Whittier, conquerors of Santa Ana, sprung the surprise of the season by cleaning the Long Beach outfit by a decisive score on the Fullerton court.
Without the services of two of its best men from both league engagements, Santa Ana dropped to the bottom of the league and has lost virtually any chance for the title.

COVINGTON'S FIVE DEFEATS ANAHEIM

Santa Ana high school's basketball team yesterday afternoon defeated Anaheim high school in a practice game. The score was 21 to 16. This was the third time this year that Ed Covington's cohorts have triumphed over the Mother Colony five.

Laurine Bowe, forward, went wild in the last half of the encounter and shot basket after basket. He made nineteen points during the melee and sixteen of these were scored in the last two quarters. The line-up:
Santa Ana (21) F (16) Anaheim
Bowe (19) F (10) Riddin
Burns (19) F (10) Walker
Anderson (2) C (4) Beebe
Cook (2) G (4) Bente
Lacy, Spencer G Bente
Referee—Ashleigh.

POLY CLASS B FIVE DEFEATS ORANGE
Ray Adkinson's Poly Class B team which will go to San Diego Saturday, won from the Orange lighties yesterday by the score of 24 to 19. The following played for Santa Ana: Forwards—McClain, Romo, Cox, Hurd and Beatty; centers—Zaizer and Prater; guards—Rodriguez, McClain and Meisinger.

SHORT SPORTS

Lax on Discipline
Laxity as to discipline is said to be the real reason for the break between Kid Gleason, former manager of the White Sox, and Owner Comiskey.

Nine Clubs in Florida
Florida will have nine of the 16 major league clubs training within its borders this spring. Some complaint to the climate of that state.

Witt May Retire
Whitney Witt, outfielder of the New York Yankees, is said to be seriously considering quitting the game. Witt has saved his money and won't need a benefit.

Worried About Faber
Frank Chance is much concerned as to the condition of Red Faber, his star pitcher. Faber allied the last six weeks of the 1923 season, then turned in a great game in the city series with the Cubs.

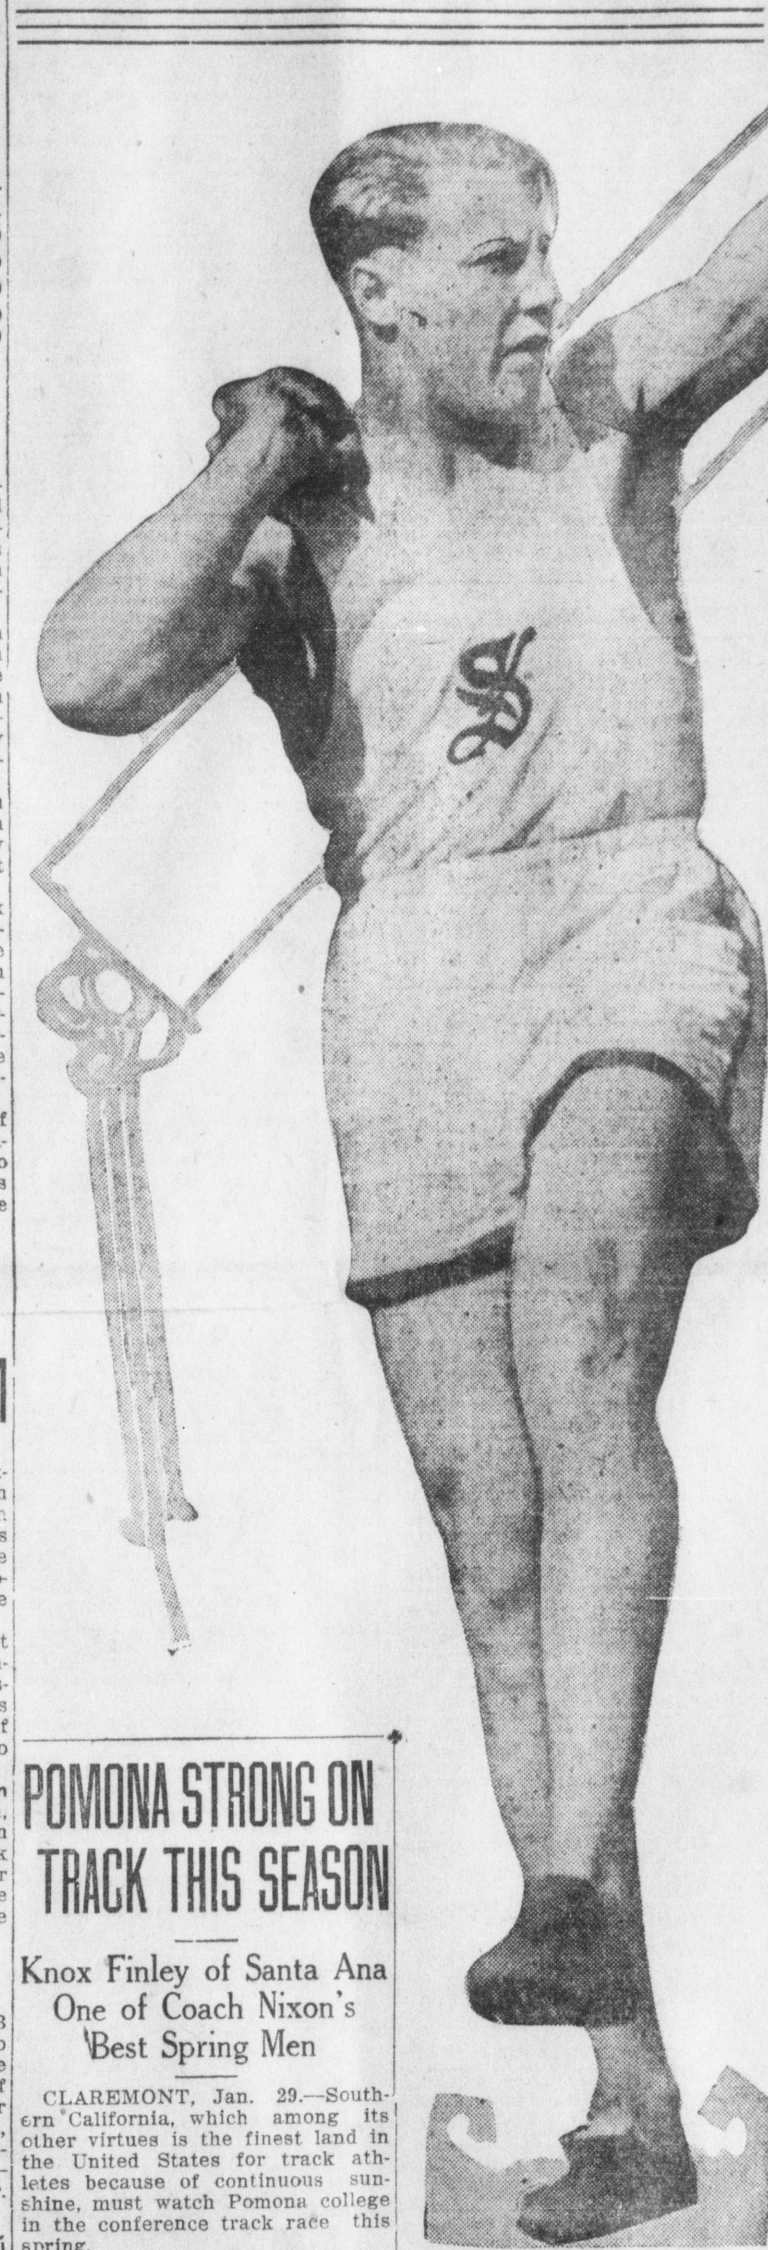

Will Coach Pitchers
Ed Walsh, famous pitcher of other days, will probably be used by Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox as coach for the young pitchers.

Need Second Sacker
Unless Detroit lands a capable second sacker, there is hardly a chance for Cobb to finish as high as second this year.

Maranville on Market
Maranville is almost certain to be traded by Pittsburgh before the opening of the season.

FULLERTON BOY IS CARD'S TRACK STAR

GLENN "TINY" HARTRANFT, of Fullerton, Stanford University's most versatile and valuable track and field athlete. Hartranft is counted on for more points and better times and distances this year than ever before.

POMONA STRONG ON TRACK THIS SEASON

Knox Finley of Santa Ana
One of Coach Nixon's
'Best Spring Men

CLAREMONT, Jan. 29.—Southern California, which among its other virtues is the finest land in the United States for track athletes because of continuous sunshine, must watch Pomona college in the conference track race this spring.

With as many stars as the New York Yankees, Eugene Nixon, Pomona track coach, is the most envied mentor in the southern conference. Already he has his aspirants in trunk and jerseys taking daily exercise on the cinder path.

In the casual manner usual to pre-season training, other colleges in the south have started thinking of something besides basketball. Occidental and Redlands are particularly anxious to win notice in track because of their disappointing success on the court.

Pomona's strongest even this spring appears at present to be the 440, which will be considerably different than last year when there was a dearth of Sagehen quarter-milers. In this division there is the following: Captain Mickey Gardner, veteran 440-man; Carroll, George Stone, Knox Finley, De Silva and Paul Stroud, who is excited about trying out for the Olympic games.

Finley in his high school days was a first rate sprinter at Santa Ana.

Stroud, who has done well in the 880, is likely to be used by Nixon on the mile relay team, which means he is among the best of the 440 men.

Nixon believes he is as well fixed for the hurdles, both high and low, as he is in the middle distances. Bob Maxwell, Slykehouse, Milliken, Frisbie and Walker form the hurdle brigade.

BEAUTY DOCTOR LOSES
DENVER, Jan. 29.—The state supreme court has upheld the verdict giving Miss Theresa H. Harmon a verdict of $600 against Dr. W. H. Bailey, a plastic surgeon for failure to remodel her nose according to specifications and contract.

Levi, Big Indian Star, Quits Grid For Diamond Job

OMAHA, Jan. 29.—John Levi, giant "Haskell Indian fullback, chosen on many mythical All-America football teams this winter, won't play on the gridiron next season.

John says he will try out with either the Yanks or the Cleveland Indians. He's a first sacker and outliner with a record of 12 homers with the Haskell Institute last season.

Levi says he won't return to school. He's to finish the eighth grade this year and could play eight more years at Haskell, where no conference red tape makes him ineligible.

England Defeats France At Hockey

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 29.—England joined the United States, Canada and Sweden on the list of the undefeated hockey teams by defeating France 15 to 2 here this morning, in the second day of the Olympic hockey competition. The Englishmen had little difficulty in winning.

Overdrives Green But Makes Hole-In-One Club

E. T. Mateer, well known Santa Ana druggist and golf enthusiast, today was a full fledged member of the "Hole-In-One" club.

Furthermore, according to Walter Vandermaast, Guy N. Gilbert, L. W. Harris, W. N. Prince and Charles Clayton, who were playing around the Orange County Country club course at the time, Mateer has a perfect right to be Grand Siren or owner of some such title for the shot which made him eligible to the coveted organization.

From the tee on the short No. 11 hole, Mateer overdrove the 90-yard green. The ball shot over the high bank and about fifty feet up the side of the hill on the opposite side. Then it rolled down the hill, back over the bank and in plain sight of the amazed golfing sextette, across the green again to drop lazily into the cup for a beautiful "one."

M'TIGUE, CARP TO OPEN BOUT SEASON

Light Heavyweight Champ
Agrees to Meet Tunney
If Frenchman Beaten

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Mike M'Tigue, world's light heavyweight champion and Georges Carpentier will open the outdoor season with a bout for the title in one of the New York ball parks. The contest will be the feature of an all-star card that is to be staged for the benefit of the milk fund.

M'Tigue has agreed to terms and promised to meet Gene Tunney, the American champion, later in the summer if he is successful against the Frenchman. M'Tigue now is trying to get out of a contract he signed several months ago to meet Tunney this winter.

Tex Rickard made the match and will be the general overseer. Rickard repeated today he was not interested in reports that a New York syndicate was prepared to stage the Firpo-Willis fight next summer and that Firpo had accepted the $250,000 offer for his contract. There was a general disposition in boxing circles here to take the report lightly.

"Firpo knows I will give him $200,000. If he wants to sign with some other promoters and get more money, that's his business," Rickard said.

Firpo has nothing more than a verbal agreement with Rickard to fight Willis, according to Rickard. Firpo and Willis would draw as many spectators as any arena could hold and the "gate" ordinarily should be big enough to meet the $450,000 guarantee which is said to have been offered.

However, if the promoters had to build an arena, there would be little left for them after their expenses had been paid.

Billy Evans SAYS

Coach Charley Moran who, with the aid of "Bo" McMillin, "Red" Roberts and a few other stars, put Centre College on the football map, seeks new fields to conquer. Recently he signed a contract to coach Bucknell, despite the fact that only a year ago he was reported as having a five-year contract with Centre. Perhaps the financial inducements offered by the eastern school caused the Centre authorities to permit him to tear up the five-year clause.

Centre will miss Moran. In all probability Charley will miss the atmosphere and environment of Centre. Who will be the greater loser remains to be seen.

The little southern college first jumped into prominence in 1919 when it defeated University of West Virginia, rated one of the very best eleven in the country. Only the week previous West Virginia overwhelmed Princeton, and the Tigers had a mighty strong team that year. Centre was regarded as easy picking, but proved the very contrary. The upset of West Virginia was the outstanding feature of the 1919 campaign. That game brought Centre into the spotlight of the sporting world, and under the guidance of Coach Charley Moran it has remained there ever since.

The most cherished victory in the annals of Centre was the 6 to 0 win over one of the greatest teams Harvard ever boasted. That was in 1921.

ANAHEIM TO PLAY LOCAL ATHLETES

Clash Will Mark Debut of "Shinney" Sport In Orange County

Hockey will officially become an Orange county sport for high school girls tomorrow afternoon when the co-ed "shinney" teams of Santa Ana and Anaheim clash in the first game of its kind ever played in this city. The contest, which will begin at 3:30 o'clock, will be played on the Poly football turf.

Mrs. Sophie Colby, one of the best known sportswomen in the world, will referee the match. Mrs. Colby, now an instructor in the Los Angeles schools, last year coached the American girls' hockey aggregation that played the English women's squad.

The Santa Ana team, under the direction of Miss Alvorda West, coach, has been practicing for the last three weeks. The players yesterday afternoon went through their final drill on the football field and called it quits until time for the contest.

Miss Annie Tarver, center forward on the hockey crew, and one of the best all-around girl athletes at Poly, was elected captain. Miss Tarver is regarded as one of the strongest players on the squad.

Girl Squad Announced
Miss West, who was a member of the Stanford University hockey "eleven" for two seasons, announced today she would select her starting line-up of eleven players from the following girls:

Forwards—Beck Walker, Mable Cook, Annie Tarver, Mary Goodykowitz, Agnes Smith, Charlotte Harms, Lucien Bales.

Halfbacks—Martha McPeak, Lenore Fernandez, Harriett Koser, Ethel English and Myrtle Meacham.

Fullback—Isabel Wood, Margaret Wood and Katherine Dunn.
Goal Keeper—Viola Spencer and Daisy Anderson.

Sporting Things

NEW YORK—Signed contracts were received at the office of the Giants from Joe Oeschger, Jimmy O'Connell and Claude Jonnard Dean, Young, Meusel, Southworth, Snyder, Barnes and Shinnars have not signed yet.

BOSTON—Application for reinstatement has been received from Charley Paddock, champion sprinter, and his case will be heard before a special committee in Chicago next week. It was announced by William C. Prout, president of the A. A. U.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Rudy Desek, Omaha grappler, wrestled the light heavyweight title from Clarence Ecklund, Wyoming champion at the local arena last night with a combination arm lock. It was the Omaha man's second victory over Ecklund and his twenty-eighth straight victory since July 4.

CHICAGO—Johnny Layton, St. Louis representative in the three cushion billiard league, established a new record for 50 point matches of tournament play here last night when he defeated Angie Klechfer, 50 to 20, in 26 innings. The former record holder was Otto Reiser, who ran out his string in 29 innings.

CHICAGO—Howard Jones, who recently resigned as football coach at Iowa, may return to the job. It was indicated here by Judge M. J. McKinley, former president of the Chicago Alumni association of Iowa, Jones is now trying to cancel his contract with Trinity college of Durham, N. C. Judge McKinley said.

NEW YORK—Paul Benfubach, former amateur wrestler and the latest middleweight sensation, made good in his first test bout in Madison Square Garden last night when he stopped Frank Carbons, veteran New York fighter, in the sixth round.

LOS ANGELES—Joe Benjamin, handsome Hollywood fighter, will meet Phil Salvatore at the Vernon arena tonight in a return match. Salvatore won the first fight and the second was a draw. Joe Solis, of Portland, will fight the clever little Johnny Reiser, who weighs in at 133 pounds, in the semi-final bout.

LOS ANGELES—Jimmy Delaney, of St. Paul, who weighs 200 pounds, is looking for some husky opponent to knock him out of the ring at the Vernon arena at any time the challenger chooses.

LOS ANGELES—Trojan basketball fans are consoling themselves these days by pointing out that when U. S. C. meets Stanford and California here both games should logically go to the local school. The reason, it is held, is that if the Trojans could split even away from home they can win both contests on their home floor.

Can you read the word written above? It looks like "ysnw," a very peculiar word indeed, and certainly not in the English language. But if you look at it correctly, you will find the writing spells a very simple word of four letters.

Yesterday's answer: THIRTYNINE
Insert the letter "A" eight times, and form the following sentence: THAT MAN RAN AN ALFALFA FARM

THE ANTI-GUNMAN LAW

There is some hope, at least, for the protection of honest citizens against gunmen, in the bill introduced in congress by Senator Copeland, at the suggestion of the chief magistrate of New York city.

This measure seeks to prohibit the importation of revolvers and automatic pistols and to impose a heavy tax on such weapons manufactured in the United States. It would also place an almost prohibitive tax on cartridges.

Such legislation has been recommended by two international conferences of police chiefs and by the American Bar association. It is in line with suggestions made for several years past by the American press generally. It is not an attack on any vested interest; and though the immediate effects might be annoying to manufacturers of deadly weapons, that would be amply compensated by the immense benefit likely to accrue to the public as a whole.

Almost every violent crime is accomplished with the aid of a pistol. That is what gives the gunman his false courage, and does the killing. Police everywhere agree that if the criminals were disarmed, there would be only a small fraction of the present volume of robberies, hold-ups and murders.

Objections to legislation against such weapons have been based mainly on the fear that they would disarm self-protecting citizens while leaving gunmen armed. Experienced policemen reply that as matters stand, there is little protection in defensive "gun-toting," and that it is not impossible to disarm the criminals by strict regulation of the manufacture and distribution of pistols and cartridges. With the ammunition under legal control, pistols now in possession of crooks might be rendered harmless.

The traffic in weapons of slaughter could never be absolutely ended, but there is no reason for believing that it would not be greatly lessened, and the modern type of criminal rendered comparatively harmless, by such a remedy as Senator Copeland's.

A MUZZLED PRESS

The government of Brazil is engaged in the interesting experiment of trying to muzzle the press. A new law provides fines and imprisonment, on a graduated scale, for newspaper "attacks," particularly against public officials. One offender has been haled into court, and others expect arrest.

In fairness to the president and congress of Brazil, it should be admitted that there is a strong temptation to such action.

"A weakness of South American newspapers," says a correspondent at Rio, "is that most of them are organs of prominent politicians or of parties, and indulge in bitter attacks on political rivals. There is nothing the President or his advisers can do in the interest of the government that suits the opposition press. Newspaper ethics, as known in the United States, is most generally violated in South America. Criticism of the government is not constructive, but vindictive and vituperative. In general, the press of Rio de Janeiro is no exception."

Nevertheless the undertaking of the Brazilian government is a dubious one. It will probably be recognized there, before long, that freedom abused is better than no freedom at all, and that it is safer for the newspapers to be free to criticize than for government officials to be free to jail the editors for their criticism.

There is always a tendency on the part of public men to construe criticism as an "attack," even when it is honest. Public officials in this country have seemed strangely unaware, at times, of the fact that the typical newspaper editor is no less public-spirited than the typical office-holder, and is likely to be closer to the people and therefore a more trustworthy exponent of public opinion.

The founders of our government realized that there can be no political freedom without a press free to criticize as well as praise.

DELIBERATE EUROPE

Gen. Dawes' inaugural address as chairman of the German inquiry committee, according to the Paris Midi, "turned the oratorical customs and diplomatic prejudices of old Europe upside down." The strenuous chairman tried to do likewise with Europe's bureaucratic traditions and business methods, with indifferent success.

The Dawes idea was to hold three sessions of the committee, morning, afternoon and night, seven days in the week, until the job was done. "Like a good American," remarks the Paris newspaper, "he was unable to understand why what could be done today should be postponed until tomorrow." His plan was admirable. But he failed to take into account "the impossibility of the English members doing without their week-end rest and Saturday golfing"; also the desire of every European expert to sit on every sub-committee, thus preventing efficient distribution of tasks. As a result, the committee is getting done, in a week, what the American members consider about half a week's work.

The paper wonders which is right—the old world, which takes things easy, or the new, which scorns leisure.

Both are right, perhaps—in their proper time and place.

It may be that the European disposition to take things calmly, and particularly the English habit of taking plenty of time for play, is better in the long run than the traditional American way of being everlastingly busy. Americans, indeed, are tending more and more to that view, taking more frequent vacations and going in more strongly for the "week end."

But to an American mind, there can be no question about the value of the typically American trait of taking hold of a job in an emergency and sparing no effort until the thing is done. The Europeans on that committee do not seem to recognize an emergency. And that is one of the main troubles with Europe.

RUSSIAN LEADERS

Lenine is gone from this world, in which he was so disturbing a factor. Trotsky, his right hand, is gone from the Russian Soviet government, repudiated by his associates and seeking health in southern Russia.

His death would be no surprise. What next? There will be a scramble for power, no doubt. Lenine's death and Trotsky's disappearance from the stage left Kamenev, Trotsky's brother-in-law and president of the Moscow Soviet, a conspicuous figure. But Kamenev is described as a weak man, and the time calls for strength. An American correspondent who knows Russia well, writing from Moscow, declares that the strongest man in sight is Stalin, a dark-skinned Georgian from the Caucasus mountains.

Lenine was a dreamer, who backed his dreams with ruthless will until the burden broke him. But he was sensible enough to modify his methods, and mingle Socialism with Capitalism, when he found that pure Socialism would not work. Trotsky, a great military organizer, was a hopeless fanatic on social and economic matters, and was shelved by Lenine and his associates when he refused to compromise. Stalin is said to stand for "limited capitalism," which probably means that he will insist on further encouragement of private enterprise.

Along that line lies economic salvation for Russia, and probably political salvation, too, since no government can last long without prosperity.

Age Limit Inconsistency

San Francisco Chronicle

A correspondent in the People's Safety Valve of The Chronicle very sagely asks if the age limit is to be drawn in one branch of the Federal service why it should not be drawn in every branch and made to apply with equal force to Congressman or Representative as to the letter carrier or custom house laborer. The question suggests a lot of food for reflection. In the first place there is no reasonable excuse for an age limit rule that applies to a class or to an occupation. All men are not the same. Some grow old before their time while others retain their youthful mentality and physical vigor despite advancing years.

However, it is a poor rule that does not work both ways, and if the Federal Government lays down the law that a man's usefulness must be measured by the number of his birthday anniversaries it cannot in consistency make it apply only to certain classes. There is just as much reason to assume that a Congressman has ceased to be mentally fit at 40 to shape the affairs of the Nation as it is to declare that a letter carrier or a laborer cannot perform his work after he reaches a like age.

There are some letter carriers, some laborers and some law makers who never will be fit to perform the duties assigned them, but that is due to their natural unfitness and not to their ages. And there are many old letter carriers and old laborers and old law makers who are far and away ahead of their younger competitors, because they have the experience and brains to make the best use of it.

Part of the Party

Stockton Independent

Under the theory of the law, a crime is "against the peace and dignity of the people of the state," and is not a private matter. To obstruct the course of justice or to "fix" witnesses, is compounding a crime, and is itself a criminal offense.

This is the idea of courts and lawyers, but it is not shared by Messrs. Dines and Greer, Mabel Norman, and Miss Purviance, moving picture actresses. The shooting of Dines by Greer is apparently regarded by them as just a private matter, a "part of the party," and they do not see that it is any of the public's business. At the preliminary examination all the witnesses developed forgetfulness to the point of nearly complete amnesia.

From what has been published of the affair, it is not at all certain that Greer should be convicted. He apparently was sober and had gone to the Dines apartment on business. He says he fired the shot in self-defense, and he is only one who made a coherent statement. But at least the law ought to be able to bring out the facts in an orderly way, instead of being baffled by unwilling witnesses, who evidently are in a conspiracy to hush the whole matter up. What's the constitution among friends—especially when they have a little friendly shooting affair at a party?

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

WHY INVITE TROUBLE? The civilized world today is honoring Dr. Banting, the Toronto physician who discovered insulin. He has been awarded the Nobel prize because of his aid to suffering humanity.

Insulin is the animal extract that enables the body to utilize the starches and sugars taken in as food, so that the body can be built up. It means the saving of thousands of lives daily from that formerly incurable disease—diabetes.

And yet one wonders why more thought is not placed on the prevention of this trouble.

Why should thousands of people yearly be thus afflicted?

What is my thought?

Well, there is no question but that the majority of the cases are caused by overeating. Overeating of starches and sugars. It is generally acknowledged that certain glands in the body are actually regulators of the quantity of sugar, or other food stuff, that the blood can hold.

For instance, if you eat a great deal of sugar or starch you might naturally think that your blood would be that much richer in sugar. Such is not the case however. These glands allow the blood to take up so much, and the rest is discharged from the body.

Now these glands do their best, but like the last straw breaking the camel's back, so overeating puts such a tax on them that they are unable properly to regulate the amount of sugar to be taken up by the blood, and the blood does not contain its proper amount.

Thus sugar that should be building up the body, is thrown out as waste by the kidneys and is found in the urine.

What is my point?

Should we eat less of sugar, flour, and starchy foods?

As a matter of fact if we lived the life our body was meant to live we could indulge in these things without injury.

What's the trouble?

Simply that we don't give the body a chance to use up this great amount of sugar forming food. It was meant to use it up. It has organs and muscles capable of taking care of almost all we can eat.

You were meant to use your body by work, by exercise. By doing this, these glands would have a normal call on them in maintaining the sugar balance of the blood. They don't mind legitimate needs.

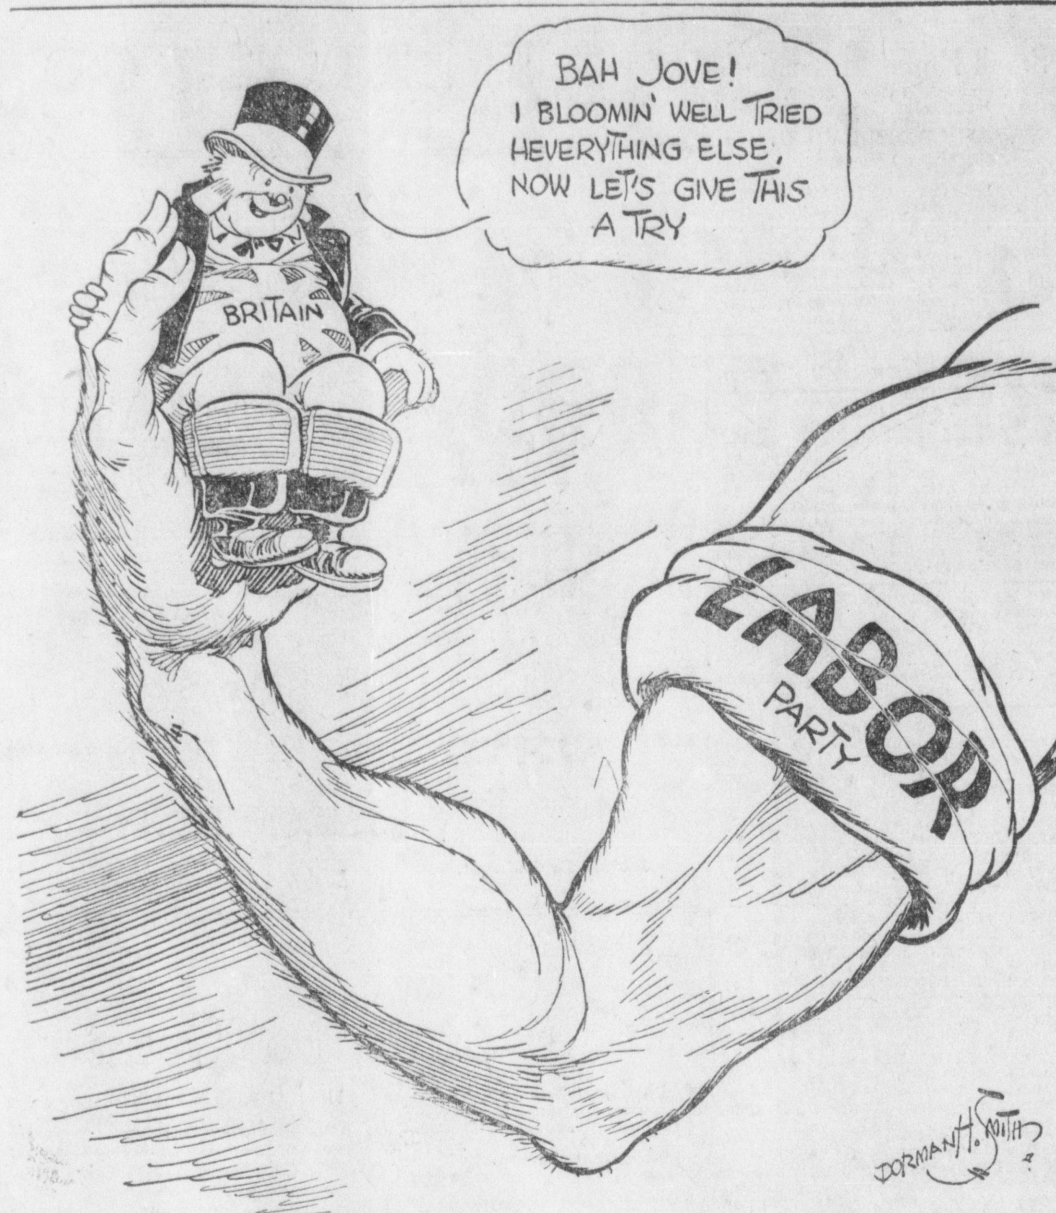

But for you to take on enormous quantities of starch and sugar, and then ask them to maintain the balance is just like flooding your car with gasoline and expecting it to maintain the proper mixture of gas and air.

It can't do it.

Now what are you going to do about it?

It's very simple, but I wonder just whether or not you will do it. One of two things. If you enjoy eating and have no inclination to cut down on your appetite, then it is up to you to work your body so as to use up the excess food. If you dislike exercise, then it is up to you to cut down on your food.

In New Hands

New Spiritual Leadership

Frank Glenn in Century

Frank Glenn in the Century: The next President should be a man who can give the nation what may be broadly termed spiritual as well as political leadership. I mean that he should be a man of wide-ranging intellectual interests, in touch with the new ideas, the new idealisms, and the new spiritual values that have been thrown up by the sciences, philosophies and adventures of the modern mind. Human society the world over is facing the possibility of disintegration. The world-order cannot be pulled together by any one star play by any one statesman. The roots of civilization must be watered by the tides of a new humanism. Humanity needs the reinvigoration that only some movement sweeping the world like a new renaissance can bring. If the next President should be a man whose mind was in touch with the great basic ideas that must underlie such a social renewal, he could give the whole world a new spiritual lead by the simple device of putting the prestige and attention-getting value of his office back of these ideas. Our country is so big that few men beside the President can get its attention and force it to think all at once about an idea. The tragedy is that we have allowed the presidency to become a task that makes the President a desk slave and prevents the average President from giving such spiritual leadership to the nation. If we could only find before next November a man big enough to rise above these obstacles!

Worth While Verse

TREES

Trees stand upon the hills
And look out o'er the sea,
But though they feel its breath
They never can be free;

Free as the ships are free
Across the waves to roam,
Over their heads the sky,
Under their feet the foam.

Over them starry lights,
Under them waves that sway,
Winds and clouds and ships
May travel far away.

Trees are the stay-at-homes
Upon whose soft green breast
Many a tiny bird
Has been rocked to rest.

Trees have no vagrant moods.
No gypsy longing mars
The steadfastness of souls
That have converse with stars.

Time to Smile

HIS REPERTOIRE

There was company. Father was gay. Lightly he jested with his guests and with members of the family. Once, in the midst of a slight lull, between the serving of the dinner and time to pass the vegetables again, he told a funny story at which his guests laughed politely and immoderately.

When quiet has been restored, the five-year-old son of the family said:

"Good, father! Now tell the other one!"

Your Income Tax

By the Bureau of Internal Revenue

INCOME TAX IN NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period is from January 1 to March 15, 1924.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Form 1040A and Form 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption and credits for dependents. Eight per cent normal tax on balance of net income. Surtax from 1 per cent to 50 per cent on net incomes over $6,000 for the year 1923.

ARTICLE NO. 21.

Income from dividends form a considerable item in the aggregate income of many taxpayers. A divident, for the purposes of the income-tax law, is any distribution, whether in cash or property, made by a corporation to its stockholders or members out of its earnings or profits accumulated since February 28, 1913.

A dividend is income to the stockholder as of the date when the cash or property is unqualifiedly made subject to his demand. For example, a corporation may declare a dividend payable December 30, 1922, for which the stockholder or did not receive his check until January 1923. The dividend is a part of his 1922 income.

Dividends received by an individual stockholder are exempt from the normal tax, but subject to the surtax, the reason being that the corporation which declares the dividend is subject to the normal tax on earnings out of which it is paid. Accordingly, dividends must be included in gross income, but they may be deducted as a credit in computing the normal tax.

Dividends or interest not in excess of $300 received by individuals during the years 1922 to 1926, inclusive, from domestic building and loan associations, operated exclusively for the purpose of making loans to members, are exempt from both normal and sur tax.

Good Health Simple

Kansas City Star

Often men who have attained greatness are asked to give the "secret" of their success. Their answers usually reveal there is no secret about it. The apparent simplicity of the accomplishment, whether it be making money, attaining leadership in a profession or something else, is amazing. The explanation usually is "hard work," "a fixed purpose," "thrift," "perseverance," "avoidance of worry"—all seemingly commonplace.

Gaining or preserving good health for example, is one form of success; at least, it often is a condition of success in any direction. And it is as simple as the attainment of other things worth while.

Last week an eminent physician, Dr. Thomas Darlington, a former head of the New York department of health, pointed out how one may live to be 120 years old. Perhaps that is an age that most of us could not or even would not, care to attain. But the rules laid down by Dr. Darlington, as reported in the New York Times, are so obviously within the reach of all that one wonders why they have not been widely observed and turned to more practical account. Here are some of them:

Eat moderately. Diabetes and high blood pressure are caused by gluttony and overweight. Reduce your weight thirty pounds.

Eat vitamins, such as are contained in tomatoes, greenstuffs and orange juice.

Avoid anger. It interferes with the flow of gastric juice and the assimilation of food.

Work. Labor does not hinder the proper digestion of food.

Keep the mouth clean, and use the tooth brush several times a day.

A well known physician declared a few years ago that he did not learn how to live properly or what he should eat until he was 50 years old. His health was bad till that time. When he learned to live simply, eat selected foods moderately and practice industry without fear, of consequences, he built up a strong body, even with the late start. Most persons could not afford to wait fifty years before beginning. The worth while things of life are not for the few, as many persons believe. They are for most of us, if we seek them.

Aftermath

By Berton Braley

I wrote some verse of a recent date,
In which I talked of a "brand new slate,"
Or a "brand new page" and a "brand new score"

For nineteen hundred and twenty-four.

But that was before the bills came in—

As I run them through my fingers I realize, for my purse is thin,

That the bygone year still lingers!

For how can you speak of a year that's "new,"

When last year's debts still follow you?

And all your mail is the same—to wit,

A repetition of "Please remit!"

For that's the way when the bills come in

And your fund in the bank's diminished.

You learn, as you pungle the hard-earned check,

That the Old Year isn't finished.

I'd said, "That's over, and '23 is one of the things that used to be";

Alas, its chains are around my neck

For all my letters say, "Please send check!"

In goes and slathers the bills come in

As thick as the bees in clover, And I'm stung—for the New Year may begin

But the Old Year isn't over!

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 10—A SHARP RIDDLE

What do you think of this riddle, my dears? Nancy and Nick guessed as hard as they could when the Riddle Lady read it. It's a riddle for a very cold day.

"I grow, not like sweet pears and plums,
'Neath sunny skies when summer comes,
Eut in the winter cold and drear,
Just overnight do I appear.

"Nor do I bloom on bush or tree!
Most any place will do for me.
Like Birdie with the yellow bill,
I much prefer the window sill.

"But I take root with equal ease,
On shutters, chimneys, roofs or trees,
Then hang head downwards, holding tight,
And grow and grow with all my might.

"I love the cold and wind and snow,
The colder 'tis the more I grow,
The sun's the thing I mostly fear,
If he comes out I weep a tear.

"Like sour grapes I hang up high,
Where you can't reach me; please don't try!
It isn't that I fear you much,
But I shatter at the slightest touch.

"Although I'm hard and sharp and long,

I'm really not so very strong,
I only live a day or two,
So must be careful what I do.

"To guess my name can't be a task,
It's clear as crystal if you ask,
As to the point, why you must see
That it's as plain as plain can be!"
